Together under an immense sky
we share a part of our souls, transfixed by the reflections
in each other's eyes.
Tomorrow, we may be far apart;
but here, now, we discover the beauty of our relationship, feeling warm and close.
We are under a spell,
a spell that will grip our hearts
Through the years.

The day is perfect-
A balmy, calm afternoon
for easy-going fun.
We gather our good friends
to talk, to philosophize, to reflect on times past and
times to come.
We feel relaxed, peaceful.
For the moment, all is well.
We close our eyes and try to memorize this feeling, hoping it stays this way
Through the years.

yo Al
whats up Big Guy? you are a killer volleyball player
I'm glad I had you in
P.E. cuz you always made me laugh at the way you picked on people and made fun of them stay cool!

feet shrinking
sing a long

We are floating away, drifting, looking for somewhere to put our feet on the ground.
"Amazing color, lift us!
Take us back to yesterday
or forward to tomorrow."
Why are we never content with the present?
Someday, we will realize how great life was "then,"
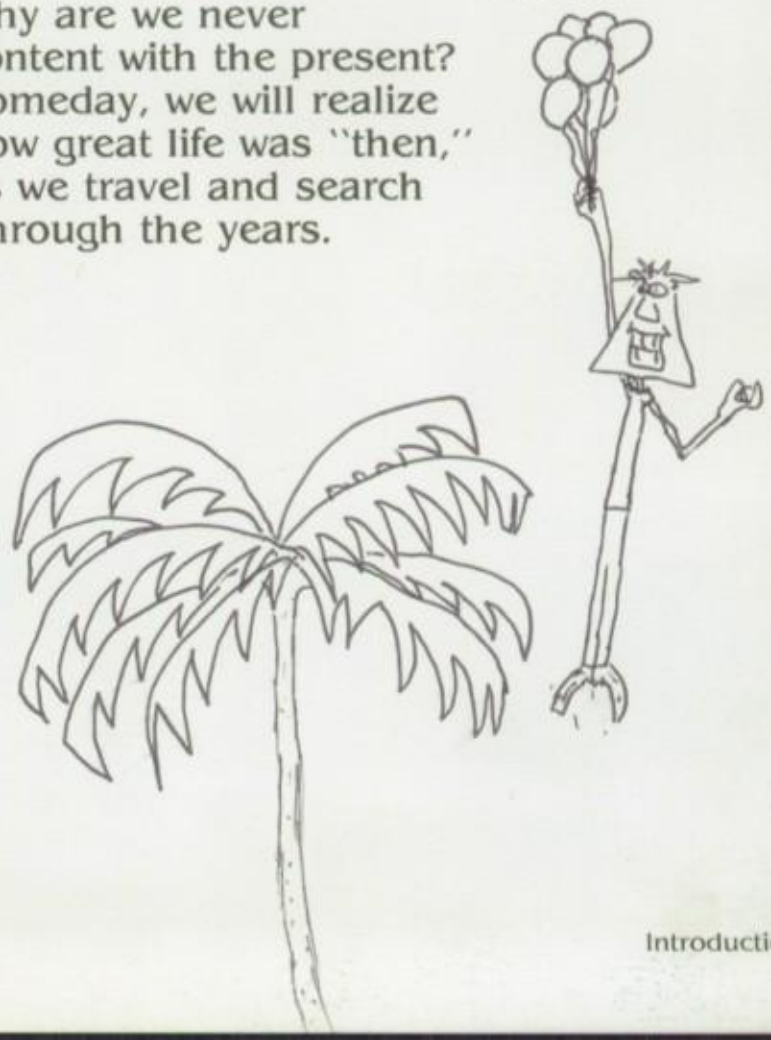
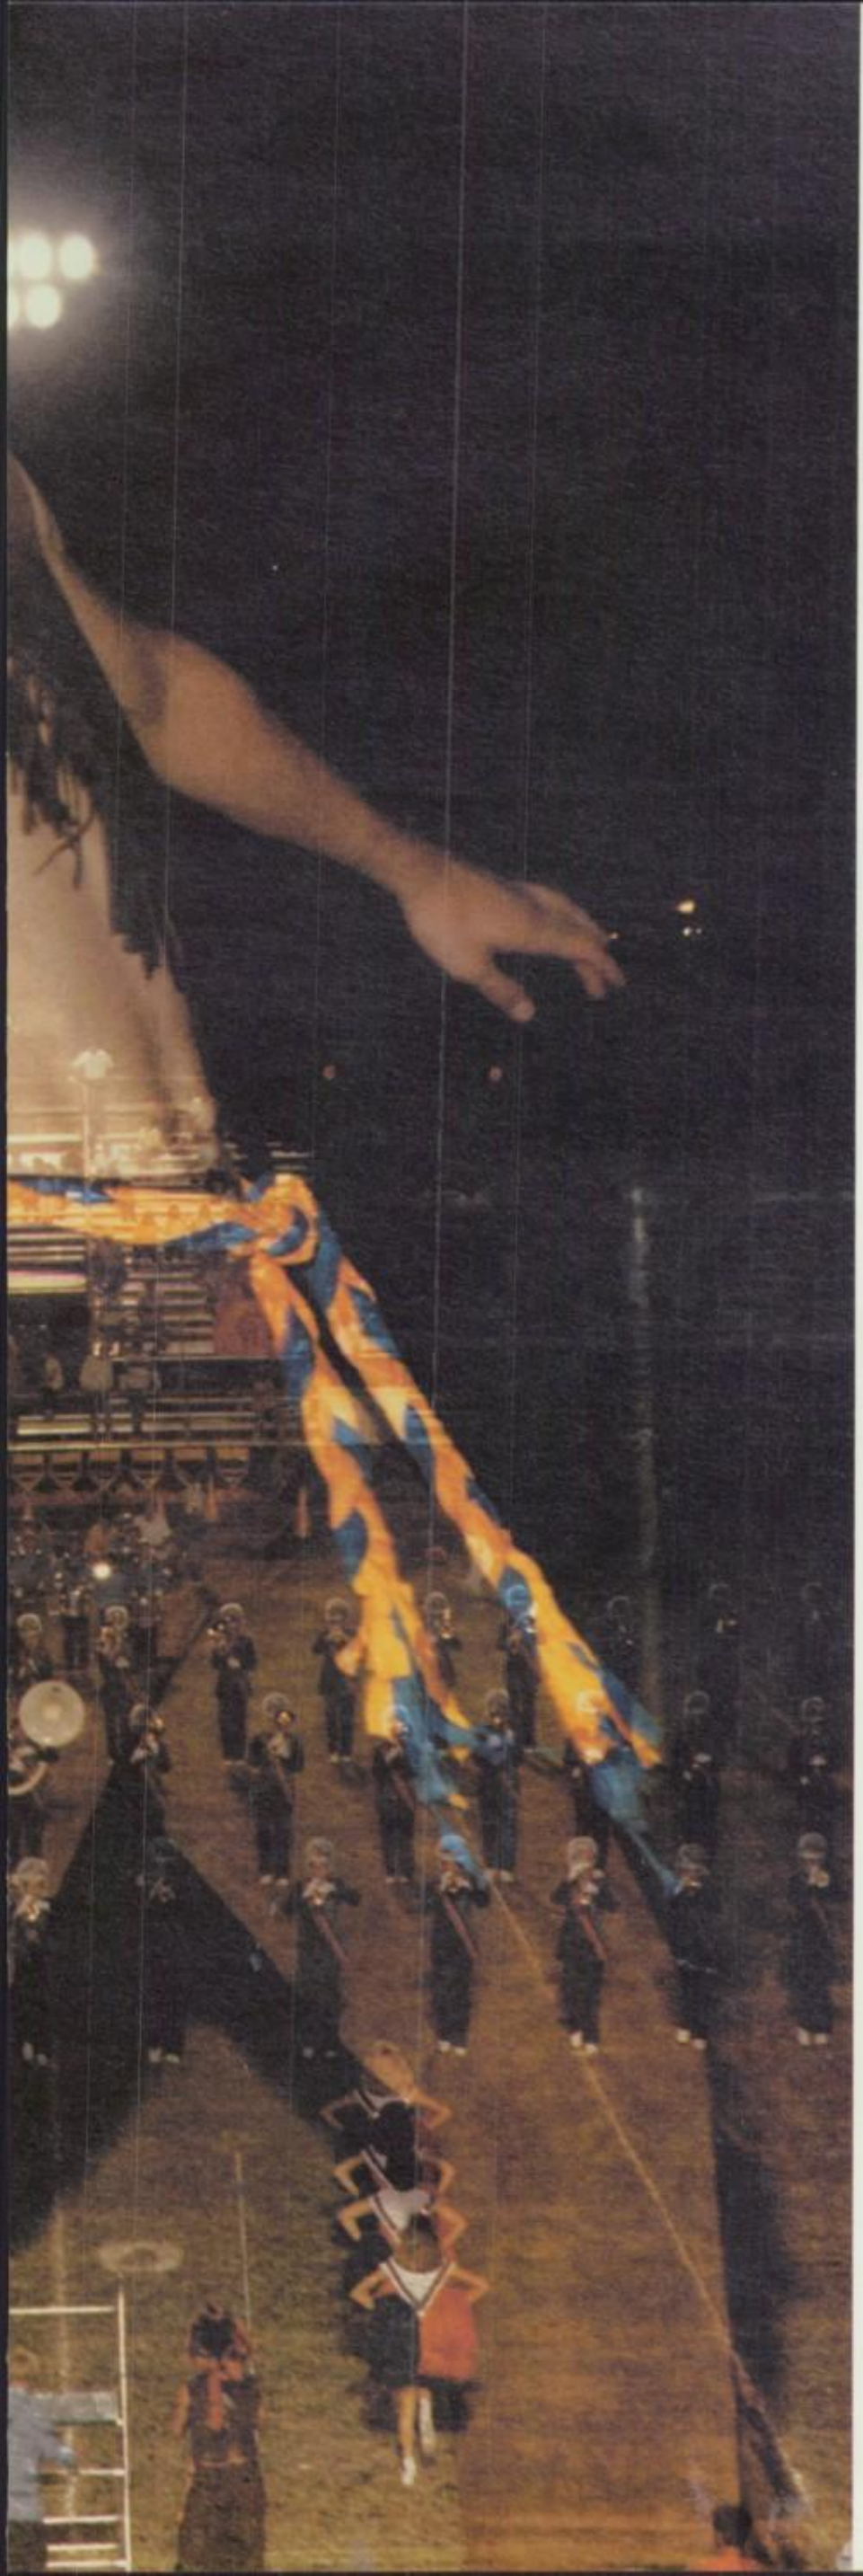
as we travel and search
Through the years.



Letting ourselves be carried away,
putting all seriousness aside,
we meet and plan,
driven by everlasting energy
and spontaneous creativity.
Oh, the fun of it all!
We would do anything for this school-
show our fanatical side,
our zany enthusiasm-
anything to keep the spirit alive
Through the years.



We are mighty Warriors,
walking proud,
our heads held high.
On the field now,
we display our incredible precision,
feeling the exhilaration of performance.
This is life!
Take that second wind,
draw from your heart,
for we must carry on the tradition
Through the years.

AWARD
EXCELLENCE

Ah, the glory of achievement-
Names engraved in gold plates,
embossed certificates,
dazzling trophies-they are symbols of our honor, our success.
Where will we go from here-
The future leaders,the youth who shone bright for a little while?
Will the best remain the brightest,
and will we be remembered
Through the years?

We are more than just a team,
a strong, invincible unit.
We are the best of friends.
When the season ends
what will be left-
Memories of special times that can never be recaptured, and of stirring victories
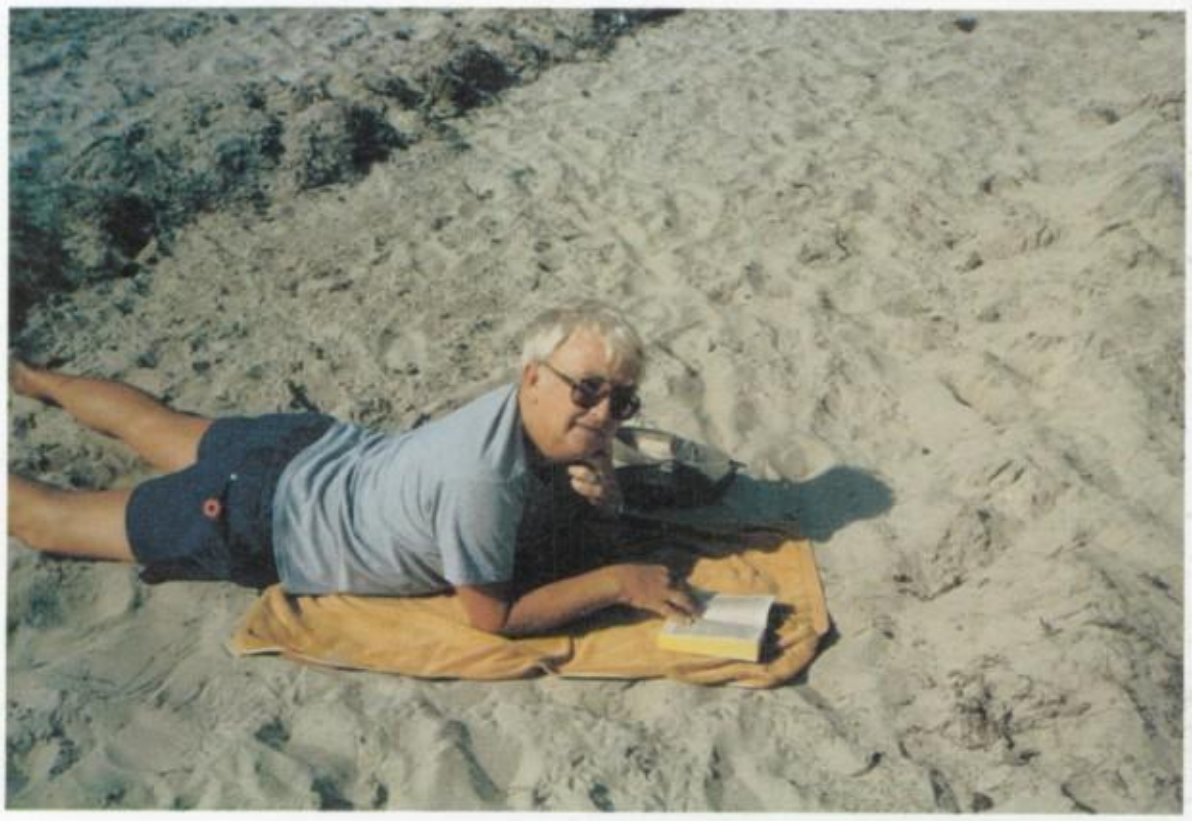
when we stood tall together?
We will not walk away empty-handed,
because we will never forget
Through the years.



For the past twenty-four years, Mr. John Donovan has devoted his many talents to the students at Westwood. His influence radiates out to enlighten all corners of campus life. The zany walls of room "007", where he unearths the War Chant and Chieftain from cluttered minds, have never boxed him in. His addiction to Mr. Sun coaxed him onto the pool deck where the Westwood girls' swim team rewarded his years of coaching effort with an undefeated season. Mr. Donovan also supports other athletic programs by working as a game official at football and basketball games and track meets. The yearbook and newspaper staffs have always yielded first-rate, award-winning material under his supervision. In the classroom, Mr. Donovan adds a unique and creative flavor to his lessons. As a friend, he's always the first person to offer his loving, moral support to students and peers alike. He constantly relies on his witty and charming personality to alleviate the all too familiar stings of life. Through advising, coaching, teaching, and being a friend, Mr. Donovan has contributed significantly to the enjoyment of learning, the spirit of competition, and the zest of living. In appreciation for your years of devotion, concern, and loyality to the students and staff at Westwood, we dedicate the 1987 Chieftain to you, Mr. Donovan. You're one of a kind!

Out of uniform,
We meet on the field,
Away from the intensity of competition.
Relishing the freedom of youth,
We reveal a lighter side,
Immodest to the images others perceive.
Proud and anxious Warriors,
Entrusted in our unity.
Success awaits us —
As a team we will fight
Through the years.

Of Westwood and it's beginnings, one of the founding students of the Chieftain said:

"We, the first students of Westwood, have started to blaze a trail, a path toward high traditions and education standards. The dips and turns that we carve will be there forever. Whether we turn our little paths into a huge and easy-to-travel freeway is up to us, and up to our successors. This year we have cleared most of the obstacles from our path, and have left markers for others to follow. It is our hope that those who follow will keep the path clear and extend it beyond the horizon."

When Westwood opened in 1962, it was faced with the same problems as any other new school. It's academic quality was uncertain, it lacked traditions, and it's school spirit was practically nil. During the first year many of those problems were corrected. During the succeeding 24 years, the standards that were established have been added to and upgraded.

The world facing the first Westwood students was vastly different from the one facing the students of today. From the battlefields of an unpopular and controversial war to the international sites of terrorism, from the first steps on the moon to the space shuttle, Westwood has survived the vast changes and prospered.

The years from 1962 to 1967 were a transition period for America. People began to examine their values. Many of those people found traditional values repressive and out-of-date and those who rebelled against those repressive values called themselves flower children. Out of their social rebellion came the sexual revolution, free love, and environmental conscience. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., a Nobel Peace Prize winner, advocated the abolition of racial discrimination through peaceful protest. Unfortunately, Dr. King died before he could see his dream become reality. He was assassinated in 1968 at a Memphis hotel.

Technology, the 60's grew by leaps and bounds. The supreme goal of the space program was to put a man on the moon. The space program suffered a serious hardship on January 27, 1967 when a flash fire occurred during preliminary testing of the Apollo spacecraft killing three astronauts. The Polaris series of nuclear submarines was launched in the early 60's. Scientists refined a substance called Bakeolite and renamed it plastic. Plastic was then used for almost everything from dentures to Tupperware. Pampers sold a new innovation to consumers — disposable diapers. For the first time contacts were made and open heart surgery was performed.

The government suffered a tragic loss when President John F. Kennedy was assassinated on November 22, 1963, in Dallas by Lee Harvey Oswald. Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as President that very day. In 1968, the country was divided politically. Richard Nixon won the Presidential electoral vote by the smallest margin since 1912.

America was changing culturally during the 60's. The Beatles brought a new style of rock 'n' roll music and dress to America. As the hemlines of skirts rose so did the height of hair; mini skirts were worn with bouffant hair-dos. Color T.V. was introduced for home use.

Westwood has hurdled over the obstacles of a new school and achieved high academic standards and traditions. Over the years these traditions and standards have elevated the name of Westwood to new heights of respect. The 25 years of change Westwood has seen has been drastic. Those changes helped shape and refine the standards of the growing school.

Cheerleaders And Warriorettes Lift School Spirit

The ten varsity cheerleaders and the eighteen Warriorettes worked together to raise school spirit for the 86-87 football and basketball seasons. The girls put in hours of practicing to coordinate dances, cadances, and chants to help excite the crowds.

This summer the Warriorettes and varsity cheer attended a summer camp at NAU. The cheerleaders received awards such as the spirit stick, and a superior trophy, while the Warriorettes also received a spirit stick, and a superior award on their dances. Mrs. Sandy Cooper is in charge of the varsity and J.V. cheerleaders. Mrs. Sally Sturdevant is the Warriorette sponsor. Their hard work and dedication at helping the pom and cheer squads is greatly appreciated.

The cheerleaders and Warriorettes really help boost school spirit. Without them the crowds in the stands would lack the enthusiasm needed to help the year's activities be successful.

Homecoming Activities Accent Silver Anniversary

Over 5,000 proud and anxious Warrior fans, including past and present Westwood students filled the stands at Brimhall Field to witness the 1986-87 Homecoming Festivities. This year was our 25th anniversary so special activities for the evening had been planned. The Homecoming Royalty from the past 24 years came back for another parade around the field in cars of the same year they were crowned.

The halftime show began with the presentation of class floats, each of them showing off the creativity and dedication that had been put into making them. The juniors took first place in the float competition displaying an Indian headress and a Warrior standing proud.

Excitement grew in the crowds while the 1987 Homecoming candidates were driven around in horse and buggy. Floyd Williams and Sherri Farnsworth captured the King and Queen titles. The Warriors ended the Homecoming evening with a 18-8 victory over the Greenway Demons.

Christmas Is Here

"T'was the night before Christmas and all through the house, not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse . . ." We have heard this story at least a hundred times, but this year a different version appeared in one of Westwood's many Christmas halls. Various organizations chose a hall and decorated it in their own Christmas style. As students walked down each hall, they could feel the spirit rising every day as Christmas vacation approached. The decorated halls were judged by the faculty and the best three were chosen. ROTC acquired third place, COE received second place, and DECA was honored with first place.

Christmas time is a time for sharing and caring. It's a time to enjoy the company of family and friends and to show your appreciation for everything they have done. Exchanging gifts is always the highlight of the season and watching youngsters eyes approach the size of golf balls as they open their presents and squeal in delight is always exciting and fulfilling. Christmas traditions and memories at Westwood, at home and around the world will continue in the future and will live forever.

Drama Performs Outstanding Fall Play

The Westwood Performing Arts Department was proud to present "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds", a Pulitzer Prize-winning play. Written by Paul Zindel, it has also received the Obie Award and the New York Drama Critics Circle Award as best American play of the season. Performed by Westwood students, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds" received excellent reviews and an auditorium filled with applause. The play depicts the story of a family and their sturggles to survive while keeping close family ties. To support herself and her two daughters, Beatrice Hunsdorfer rents one of their rooms to an old woman. The older of her daughters, Ruth, is prone to have emotional outbursts at any time, while Tillie, her other daughter, is simple, ordinary, and extremely shy, but is very much interested in science. Motivated by one of her teachers, Tillie performs an experiment studying the effects of gamma rays on marigolds and enters it in a science fair. Beatrice is very proud but also envious of her daughter's accomplishment and success which creates many different feelings and problems. The Westwood Performing Arts Department did a superior job while presenting this play and deserves a round of congratulations for their hard work and dedication.

Through The Years In Sports

The period from 1969 to 1975 was turbulent. The future was uncertain. It was the time of the credibility gap, the space race, and political scandal. Americans were leary of the government and hazy about their personal future and the future of the country.

1969 to 1975 was a trial for American politics. Washington D.C. was a hotbed of scandal. President Nixon was reelected in 1973. That same year official peace was declared in Vietnam. Washington began to heat up when the story of the Watergate affair hit the newspapers and TV. Because of his involvement in Watergate, Vice President Agnew resigned and Gerald Ford took his place. In 1974 Congress began impeachment investigations against President Nixon. Nixon resigned in 1975 and was later pardoned by President Ford.

The technology of the late sixties and early seventies was basically centered around the development of the space program. The United States and the Soviet Union were in intense competition with each other to make advancements in space. In 1969, the lunar module Eagle landed on the moon. The same year, the Soviets sent an unmanned spacecraft, Zonds, to orbit the moon and retrieve lunar samples. By 1974, the U.S. had inched ahead in the area of manned launchings. Skylab's third crew broke man's previous record for living in space, eighty-four days.

In 1973, eighteen year olds were given the right to vote and sixteen year olds were allowed to marry. The movie "The Exorcist" revived the occult craze and exorcism. Gasoline prices rose to nearly sixty cents. String bikinis were seen on beaches across the country. In the wide world of sports, Miami won their second straight Superbowl over the Minnesota Vikings, UCLA's winning streak in basketball was stopped at eighty-eight by Notre Dame, and Hank Aaron topped Babe Ruth's home run record.

Although the period was a turbulent one, America preserved. The shock of the covert actions of the government slowly faded, the space program strode forward boldly, and society adjusted to many changes.

Warriors Tear Through 1986 With Many Victories

This years Warrior football team proved to be one of the best in Arizona, making their way to the quarter finals. The Warriors provided fans with excitement each Friday night as they battled other school's teams coming home the victors in 75% of their games. The Warriors ended the season with a 9-3 record earning sixth place in the final ranking of state.

The most memorable victory came when the team defeated the Mesa High Jackrabbits, rekindling the Warriors drive to continue winning in the play-offs.

The Warrior defense shut down opposing teams with its aggressive style of play and hard hitting tackling. The team nicknamed the defense, "Orange Crush" at the beginning of the season, and the oranges crushed other teams throughout the year.

The mighty offense consistently produced yards gaining 3930 total yards over the season. The leading gainer was Sean Roundtree who compiled 938 yards. Four of Westwood's talented players gained recognition by earning honors on the All-East Valley League teams. They were Chris DelaFuente, Brent Leavitt, Sean Roundtree, and Randy Wondrash.

The long hours of practice proved to be beneficial as the team was a tough opponent for anyone to overcome.

Junior Blues And J.V. Teams Have Successful Year.

The 1986 Junior Blues football team had its most successful team in several years. The team was led by Coach Lon Foster and Assistant Coach Larry Mattix. The team finished the season with a 5-3 record. The highlights of the season included two victories over the Mountain View and the Dobson Junior teams. Outstanding offensive players for the team were Mike Ochoa, Tony Nash, Todd Kooser, and David Porter, The excellent defensive players were Merlin Russell, Eric Shumway, Jim Roe, and Chris Mattix.

The Junior Varsity team showed that once again the young Warriors have the ability to be winners. Working hard throughout the season they finished with a 5-4 record. Three of the losses were very close games despite the final score. Leading the team was Coach Jolly and Assistant Coach Palmer. The coaches and players felt they were a better team then the win-loss record shows. The outstanding players were Ruben Sanchez, Zane Dickey, Mike Owen, and Steve Colgrove.

Warrior Tidal Wave Wipes Out Rivals

All summer long, the swimming and diving team dreamed about drowning opposing teams. In the fall, they saw their dream materialize. The girls' team wrapped up the season with an 8-0 dual meet record and a forth place finish in the State Championships. The boys', in turn, maintained their tradition of undefeated seasons; they also captured the third place state title. Both teams were credited with exceptional performances from Westwood's eleven divers.

Depth proved to be the key factor in the girls' struggle against such rivals as Mountain View, Saguaro, and Chaparral. Although the achievements of a hand full of girls overshadowed the others, no victory was possible without the effort of the entire group. The fourth and fifth place finishes lacking in rival teams, boosted the Warriors out of their nine year slump, consequencely giving rise to the wave of seasonal expectations. The girls finished a close second to Dobson in the City Championships. Also impressive was their third place Divisional title.

Unfortunately, the departing seniors will carry much of the team's depth away with them. Their enthusiasm and love for swimming- so much a part of the team's spirit-will be soarly missed. Meg Rich, Nichole Anderson, Marcy Jacobs, Maria Talamante, Shawn Health, and Michelle Troy will return next year however, to defend Westwood's newly acquired reputation for outstanding lady swim teams.

Accompanying the boy's undefeated season were several inpressive finishes in the state meet. The 200 Medley Relay came in second. Individual finishes were made by: Mike McQuitty-200 Freestyle, Jason Anderson-100yd. Butterfly, 500yd. Freestyle, 500yd. Freestyle, Jason Anderson-100yd. Butterfly, 500yd. Freestyle, Joel Colmar-100yd. Backstroke, 200yd. Individual Medley, Todd Eames-100yd. Butterfly, Lenny Starks-100yd. Freestyle. The boys too, will suffer the loss of their seniors. Coach Cummins commented, "We're losing a lot of good, young senior men. However, I feel that the sophomores and juniors will fill up the gaps next year."

Without points from the diving team, neither the boys' nor the girls' swim team would have aspired to such heights. Paul Kepler and Dalin Crandell were the mighty men, giving strength to their team mates. Paul suffered a tragic diving accident and was unable to compete in the State Diving Championships. Dalin, however, continued on and received the fifth place state title. Recalling the season, Paul remarked, "Everyone enjoyed being on the team this year. We all got along so well. We owe our success to Mrs. Pipes."

Runners Continue Tradition With A Successful Season

Both the boys and the girls placed high in the Prescott and Benson Invitationals. At the honorable Doug Conley Invitational, where only the top 20 teams can participate, the boys placed 1st and the girls 12th. The boys took City and Divisionals and the girls earned 3rd and 5th, both running against some tough competition. In State, although our boys were favored to win, the warriors earned a 3rd place, with Chris Schurz (Chuckie) titled State Champion. And the girls placed a respectable 13th in the AAA teams.

Four of the boy team members went on to the Regional Kenny Invitational in Fresno, Ca. Chuckie placed 6th and went on to the National Kenny Invitational, in San Diego, Ca., Where he again placed 6th. The 1st sophomore across the line in the nation.

Westwood's X-country team was ranked high in the state and has brought much honor to our school.

Cross country is not just a "go out and jog" 2-2 ½ mile race. It requires mastering the art of endurance and the combination of mental and physical strength. Our Westwood runners trained hard and sacrificed many hours for the X-country team, and they are to be commended.

They continued Westwood's tradition with a successful season. The boys team, coached by Kyle Sawyer, finished with a record of 11-0, and the girls, coached by Ross Decker, finished with a 7-3 record. X-country had meets once a week, with 3 invitationals spread throughout the season, plus City, Divisionals, and State. Their home course was out at Fountain Hills and contained a small, challenging mountain.

Westwood Volleyball Team Sets Up Well-Rounded Season

Westwood's Volleyball Team had a good season this year, despite their 5-11 record. With 4 seniors leading the way the girls had the commitment and talent to keep their spirits high throughout all their matches.

Honors were given at the end of the season. Many recieved awards, a few were: Amisty Quist, named most valuable player, and Christy Faucette was presented with most improved player. But, all who participated should be proud of their accomplishments.

The talented J.V. team ended their season with an outstanding 10-6 record. They proved themselves to be hard working and determined. With the potential they displayed, next year should be great!

The teams were lead by Gretchen Rowe, varsity coach and Virgil Cork, J.V. coach. Their support and skills made grueling workouts a little easier. The coaches are commended for their contributions given to these teams.

Badminton Smashes Expectations, Finishing 9-3

In spite of their lack of experience and the absence of returning varsity players, the badminton team had a surprisingly good season. The girls finished their winning season with a 9-3 record. Coach Yollie Munoz and the team put in many strenuous weeks of practice which paid off by their impressive fifth place overall in the divisional meet.

The driving force for the varsity team was the doubles team of Cheryl Maxwell and Linda Kennedy. Cheryl and Linda's dazzling teamwork not only advanced the team in the regular season, but won them third place in the state meet. Their high placement advanced them to the state finals and although they didn't place, they showed their opponents the meaning of the word fight.

The junior varsity team also put forth their best effort and came up with a winning season. The consistency and dedication of the team earned them an impressive 9-1 record at the end of the season. Mimicking the varsity, team, the girls ended several matches with shut-outs.

With the smashing record of both teams and the expected return of the majority of the junior varsity players, Coach Munoz is anticipating an even more successful season next year.

Soccer Beats Two-Time State Champion

The Westwood soccer team had an exceptionally well played season this year. The varsity soccer coach, Dan Kuntz, lead the team to a 12-4-2 record. Over Christmas vacation the soccer team participated in the Fiesta Bowl Soccer Classic at Tempe Diablo Stadium and took first place. When they returned to school, the members were geared up to finish the season doing their best and working their hardest. They made it to the state quarter finals and were forced to play against Salpointe who had an excellent record of 17-0 and hadn't been beaten since December of 1985. They played a hard game, and with a lot of team work, they were able to beat Salpointe. After playing Salpointe, the team advanced to the semi-finals to play against Horizon. It was a hard fought game, but the team couldn't regain the intensity they had against Salpointe.

Next year the varsity team will be losing twelve seniors so the junior varsity players are going to have to fill in the spaces immediately. At the end of the season, six j.v. players moved up to varsity so they should be well prepared for the competition. Mr. Cornell, the j.v. coach, commented that with hard work and determination, he hopes next year they can improve the varsity record they achieved this year. "We can do just as good as we did this year, if not better."

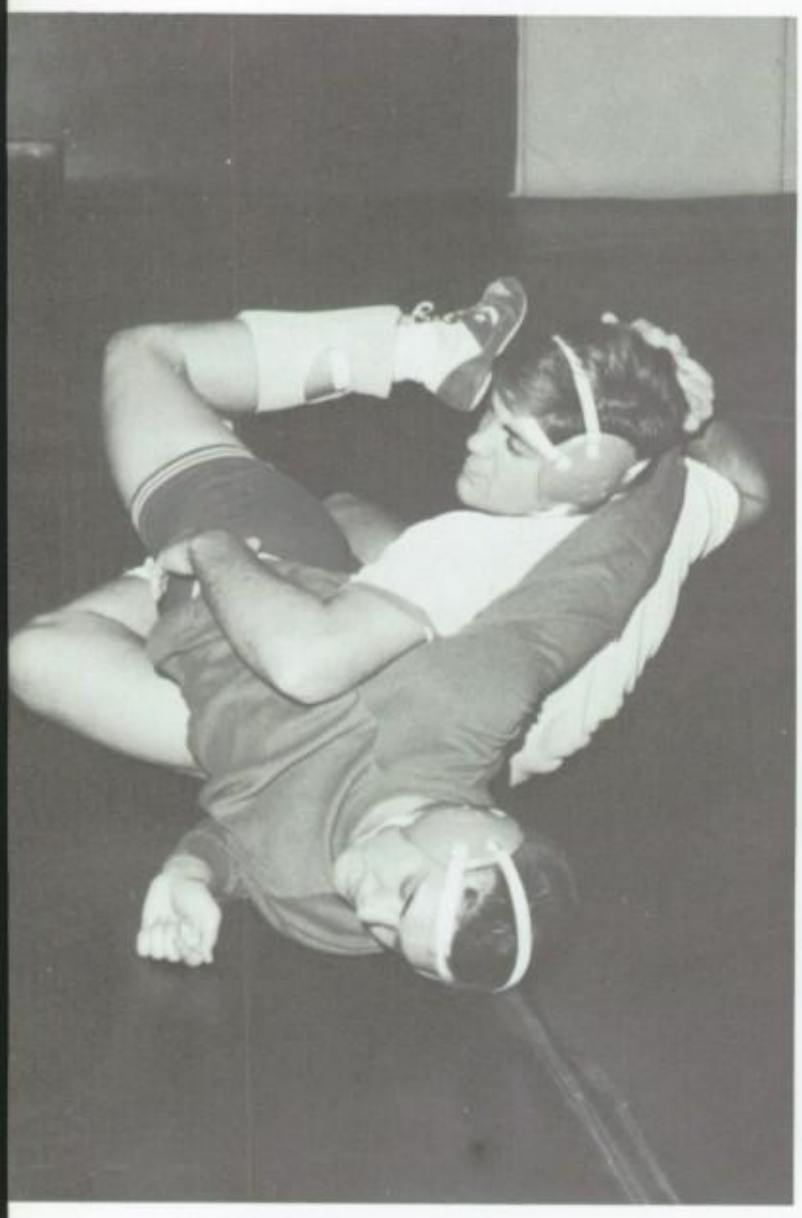
Warrior Wrestlers; Agile Athletes Work Hard



A lot of ups and downs and inconsistancies characterized the varsity wrestling team. In spite of the team's uncertain record, they never gave up. The dedicated wrestlers practiced long, hard hours to achieve their personal best.

Three of the varsity wrestlers did well in the Central Division and qualified for State competition. Juniors Don Park and Todd Delakio placed second and third in Division on February 13th and 14th. Senior Mario Tavena, also, placed 2nd in Division. Todd and Mario went on to capture 3rd and 4th place in State competition on February 20th and 21st.

The junior varsity team, consisting of mostly sophomores, gave a dazzling performance and went undefeated with a 10-0 record. Scott Finzer and Bobby Roberts finished a terrific season; both were undefeated.

Next year many of the wrestlers will be returning and the season looks promising. Coach Montalvo's expectations for next year are "to learn from last year's mistakes and to make the wrestlers realize they must work hard to improve. We will be working toward the Central Division."

Amy Pitches Softball To Success

Softball-1987 A year to remember. A brand new pitcher, Amy Tjaarda (a sophomore) started off slowly but got better and better as the season progressed with her eight team members rallying around her, the girls definately won their share of games.

The runs came across the plate thanks to the heavy hitting of Ruth Hammond and Marina Magallenez who provided the hitting power, but it was the over all team effort that brought them to the play-offs. Next year the varsity team should exceed even more as they will have the outstanding J.V. team members who will be returning.

The J.V. Softball Team ended the season with a 9-5 over all record. The highlite of the season was defeating Mesa's J.V who had been undefeated. There was a tremendous amount of talent on this team. These are the girls who will be our seniors next year.

Working together
In indivisible unity,
We recognize a goal,
Achievement becomes reality
As each individual
Contributes his part.
We vow to remember
The glory of accomplishment,
How we succeeded,
Through the years.

Peace was the goal for the years 1976 to 1981. The world was tired of fighting. World leaders worked toward peace. Although most people wanted a secure, peaceful world, some accelerated their violent aggressions.

In the 1976 presidential elections, Jimmy Carter defeated Gerald Ford. President Carter continuously worked for peace. In 1979, Carter brought the leaders of Egypt and Israel to Camp David. The result of that meeting was a truce between the two countries.

The Camp David Accords were overshadowed by the crisis in Iran. The Iranian government ordered the take over of the American embassy. After the Iranians stormed the embassy, they refused to release the embassy personnel. The Iranian hostage crisis lasted for 444 days. Those days were, in essence, a time when the whole United States was held hostage.

Because of his inability to free the hostages, Carter lost the 1980 presidential election to Ronald Reagan. Reagan was the first president who was formerly an actor. Another first close to home was Phoenix's mayorial elections. Margaret Hance, Phoenix's first female mayor, took office in 1975. On the state level Bruce Babbitt was elected to his first term as governor in 1978.

The 1975 Nobel Peace Prize was awarded to dissident Soviet physicist, Andrei D. Sakhara. The E.R.A. movement gained momentum, but fell short of ratification. After many failures, the first test-tube baby, Louise Brown, was born. In 1980 Mount St. Helens unexpectedly erupted, killing hundreds and leaving thousands homeless. The religious world grieved when Pope Paul X died. The world was further strickened thirty-three days later when his successor, Pope John Paul I, died. Miracles do happen as was proven in February, 1980. The United States hockey team beat the Soviets to win a gold medal during the Winter Olympics. 1980 was also a year of disappointments. U.S. athletes boycotted the Summer Olympics in Moscow. 1977 and 1978 were the years of movies. The T.V. miniseries "Roots" was an unprecedented success. On the silver screen, the imagination of the nation was captured by the biggest box office hit of all time, "Star Wars".

The period between 1976 and 1981 was marked by a few major crises. However, the main goal was for peace. Although much progress was made, there is still much work to be done before the world can live in peace.

Melodies Sung Everywhere By Top Choral Groups

Honor Choir, Westwoods top choral group, performs all styles of choral work from the classics to the sounds of today. This highly select group has consistently received superior ratings in festivals and consists of numerous all-state singers.

Entrance requirements to the Honor Choir includes sight reading skills, solo capabilities, and commitment and dedication to the Choral Department.

Concert Choir participated in a combined concert with Honor Choir for the annual Christmas "Canticle in Carols" in December. This fine group also sang at area conyentions and participated in the Spring festivals.

The Cantori di Madrigalis is in the second year of existence following a very successful first year. They were invited to attend the Madrigal Festival as guests of Northern Arizona University in February. The ensemble performed in the last concert at NAU as the returning outstanding Madrigal Ensemble of 1986.

This group performs music of Renaissance era as well as contemporary secular music, often in divisi parts.

All of these outstanding choral groups represent Westwood High School in a highly respectable manner.

Self Defense And Drama
The Tricks Of The Trades

The 1986- 87 school year has brought much excitement to the Westwood campus. Masque and Dagger, in particular, has been very involved in this, our twenty - fifth year. This club was especially interesting because it took some skill to enter. Upon acceptance to Masque and Dagger, students learned the finer points of dramatic production and the theatre from instructor Mr. Jay Dean Jones. There is always something to explore here because drama is such a wide and vastly entertaining medium.

Not all drama takes place in front of an audience, and for the Stage Crew, their work in preparing the stage often went without recognition or thanks from the audience. This class met to learn and discuss the technical aspects of preparing a dramatic production. Mr. Jones also sponsored Stage Crew and through his guidance, the lighting, sound, and other aspects of a production were sure to be great.

This school year brought many changes to our lives, for a few students, it has brought the art of Tae Kwon Do. Under direction of Mr. Cole, this first year club is gathered members quickly. Two students, Darren Estes and Mike Erwin served as the instructor and assistant.

Cooperative Office Education Gets Down To Business

Mrs. Vancore has led the fun business club Cooperative Office Education, alias C.O.E., through a year of happiness and success. The clubs 22 members worked hard on various projects throughout the year such as, dressing up and handing out candy to the children at Mesa Lutheran Hospital at Halloween, providing a dinner for a needy family at Thanksgiving and Christmas, and collecting extra canned food to give to the hungry around our valley.

Fund raisers for this year included candy and poster sales. The money from these sales went towards alumni breakfasts for last years C.O.E. members, club scholarships, and an appreciation banquet for employers. The members of C.O.E. worked closely with the other high school divisions of C.O.E. in projects and recreation. The clubs had volleyball games, picnics, and get-togethers with each other.

C.O.E. gives students a chance to get on-the-job training in places where high school students normally would not be able to work. Students have worked this year in places such as Mesa Public Schools administration offices, City of Mesa, banks, insurance companies, and law firms. C.O.E. proved to be a fun and rewarding experience all around.

Dancers And Bowlers Get Physical

Lights, girls, action! Music sets the atmosphere, while Westwood's own Dance Production takes the stage. From Curtain Time, Fall Concert, and Spring Assembly, the girls added their enthusiasm and pizzazz to each performance. The members put in many long hours of hard work and dedication to make each dance its best. Preparation for each performance was hard work. The girls selected the music for the dance, choreographed it, smoothed the rough edges and practiced week after week. The final product was then performed to the student body. The audience was overwhelmed by this year's production. Keep up the good work.

LET'S BOWL! For its second year, Westwood's bowling club turned out to be a huge success. Westwood happened to be the first in the district to form a team for the league. The 42 members met for 10 weeks and were separated into 3 to 4 people to make a team. "It was really competitive between the members," said sponsor, Robert Kiesecker. Top bowler for the boys this year was Enoch Roach, while Barrie Pitts sat high above the girls. The team worked hard to improve their game. Little absences showed that the members enjoyed the sport!

DECA Students Prepare For "Post-High School" Life

Distributed Education Clubs of America, or DECA, as it more commonly known, is a program that centers on teaching in the fields of marketing; merchandising, and management.

The officers for the year were: President-Mary Jo Jimenez, Vice President-Dennis Stock, Treasure-Cathy Arredondo, and Secretary-Falease Wagner. All members of the club were taught the basic aspects of retailing and received three credits towards graduation.

Throughout the year DECA sponsored many fundraising activities such as MDA decathalon, selling of West... shirts, Christmas gifts, chocolate Easter bunnies, and M&M's. The money raised from such fund raisers was used towards conference meeting fees and sponsering a family for Thanksgiving. DECA went to several conferences around the state in which they competed with other schools in various competitions associated with retailing.

Some of the other activities in which DECA participated in around school were the making of signs for the football team to run through during half time, decoration of the halls during Christmas, can food drive, and the Blood drive.

There is a place for everyone at Westwood, and if a person is interested in a minority organization, there is a place for him.

Under the direction of Herman Otero, the members of the Chicano Club excelled. Through hard work and participation they plan on giving two scholarships to two deserving members of the club.

"Camaraderie" is the term Mrs. Eleanor Ucci used to describe the Indian Club. Making new friends, having fun, and working together is what it is all about. For example, many hard working members raised money making Indian fry bread.

The Spanish Club spent their time raising money for special trips to Mexico. The exchange program was a very important part of the Spanish Club. Besides fund raising, the Spanish Club students made it a point to have fun.

Clubs provide an excellent opportunity to come together to learn, make friends, and have fun. Isn't that what makes high school worthwhile? That is why the Chicano, Indian, and Spanish Clubs were an important part of Westwood, they made school something worthwhile.

Student Council was faced with exciting challenges this year in honor of Westwood's 25th anniversary. They organized one of the most outstanding Homecomings ever. Fireworks, alumni, and past kings and queens riding in vintage cars highlighted the ceremony. A Homecoming assembly with well known acts from previous years was also organized.

Keeping up with traditional Student Council activities, they assembled class floats, class plays, dances, Nakawachim, blood drives, and a canned food drive.

Morning announcements were brought to us this year with a cheery note. Student Council found creative and amusing ways to capture the students attention.

Student Council definitely played a major role in making this anniversary year a memorable one for all.

Club Members Gain Experience

Interact was a brand new service club on campus this year. Their major goal was to have fun while helping out the community by raising money for scholarships and charities. They also sponsored such events as the "Powder Puff" games, the city wide dance and the skateboard competition. Mr. Mike Casillas was extremely proud of the group and looks forward to the same standards of excellence in the years to come.

Model U.N. also had an outstanding year. It gave five to seven Westwood students the chance to have a working knowledge of the real United Nations. They also got the chance to see how nations can come together to solve problems between themselves without war. This year the Westwood students were the nation of Denmark. This gave them the chance to study Denmark and its cultures. Good job Model U.N.

Career Lab was quite popular with the students this year. They had the chance to go out into the real world and work at real jobs to help them decide what type of job that they would enjoy. While working they also received credit towards their high school requirements needed in order to graduate. Nice work guys.

The Reserve Officer Training Corps played a very active part in Westwood activities. The Drill Team performed at halftime during basketball games and other squadron functions such as the Military Ball. The Squadron Color Guard performed over 300 times this year. They raised the colors before every home football and basketball game, and performed at Westwood assemblies, parades, and a variety of community activities.

Other activities of ROTC, this year, were the Model Rocket Club and the Chess Club. The Model Rocket Club built rockets and models as well as studied the safety rules, launch procedures, and aerodynamics of Rockets. The Chess Club met during both lunches to tease their brains.

Colonel Douglas Conger and Master Sergeant Charles Dale have taught the cadets to be self supporting and independent. Everything was planned, announced, and carried out by the cadets. This summer, the cadets will attend leadership schools at Luke AFB and Williams AFB. With the leadership that ROTC has shown, they hope to earn the Honor United Award, the highest award presented to an AFJROTC unit.

Various Clubs & Organizations Add To Westwood's Success

Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) is an organization geared for those students who are interested in pursuing a career in business. This was an extremely busy year of competition for the FBLA club. Each year the many students in this club participate in many competitions at the district, state and national levels. This year's FBLA club represented Westwood very well.

Although the art club had a new name this year, the creativity and individualism that symbolized this organization still remained strong. The club provided an opportunity for the many creative students on campus to share their talent with others. Through art, they were able to express their individuality and make new friends with the same interests as their own. Mr. Medley and Mrs. Robinson were the sponsors for the new Westwood Artists' Guild.

Students who enjoyed showing off their speaking talents in front of an audience, performing dramatic interpretations, or just plain arguing, found a home in this year's Speech and Debate club. The club entered many competitions giving them a chance to show-off their skills in the following areas: poetry, oratory and others. The club sponsor, Mrs. Stehr, contributed a great deal of time and effort to help the members prepare for their events.

S.A.D.D. Members: Siiri Lawrence, Bruce Stauffer, Kalani Gutierrez, Kenny Nelson. This year at Westwood a new group was formed called Students Against Drunk Driving. Mr. Doolen is the sponsor of this new group and he hopes it will grow over the next few years.

HERO Contributes To Westwood

You've probably heard of it, the club in which the students go out and participate in the actual job of their choice, but you might not know the name of the club that sponsors this and many more activities. It's called HERO (Home Economics Related Occupations). This club was made up of seniors who worked hard in their activities and their places of employment. Several students were enrolled for the work program at child care centers. They helped prepare and serve snacks and watched the children during naptimes and playtimes. There were also students who worked at restaurants, both fast food and family style. There were many waitresses and hostesses this year in HERO as there are in every year. Another HERO member worked as a dietician aide at Mesa Lutheran Hospital. His responsibilities included making sure all the nurses' stations had the proper supplies and taking food to the patients.

Among the club's other activities was helping organizations such as the Child Crisis Center. HERO was able to help them through auctions and fund raisers and by donating everything from quilts and toothbrushes to money and food. This year has been a very successful year for HERO, as it has been in the past. The students in this club are spirited and Mrs. Vera Smith is proud of the members of this club and the work they do.

The Health Club was a small, but enthusiastic group. All the members were interested in medical and medical related careers. Not all of them wanted to be doctors or dentists. Some just wanted to work in medical offices. Whatever their career objectives, all the members had one thing in common; a general attitude of caring and an interest in all aspects of good health. Guest health professionals spoke regularly. Members also benefited from visits to hospitals, doctors and veterinarian's offices, and field trips to Arizona State University.

Making a decision about a career is difficult. That decision is even harder for women because of the new career opportunities open to them. Westwood Women Scholars, sponsored by Mrs. Merrell, helped students make that decision by introducing them to successful women. Each month the members had a chance to hear women discuss their careers, describe a typical day, and give advice on getting ahead in a career. Westwood Women Scholars provided valuable information for women to make informed choices.

VICA, the acronym for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, is a club that helped to prepare each member for a career in industrial, technical, and health related occupations. All the members had part-time jobs that served in one of the three fields. VICA's new coordinator, Mr. Hunsaker, was enthusiastic about his new job and hoped his students learned as much as possible. This year the club sponsored a dance along with their many other activities.

Christ On Campus Brings Band

Ebony Club Members Are Enhanced By Motivational Speakers

Christ On Campus is an organization with about 40 members that has been in existence for two years, and its purpose is to bring the Christian students on Westwood's campus together to have fun and become better friends with their fellow Christian students.

The fun C.O.C. had this year away from campus included ice blocking, a hayride in October, a Christmas party, a car rally that headed for the Arizona State Fair in October, and an end of the year party.

"C.O.C. is for everyone. Not just for the kids in seminary or who belong to a certain religion. It's for kids who enjoy being in a Christian atmosphere doing fun things,'' Phil Turner, president of C.O.C., said. But most importantly, this club is a place where Christians can get to know each other and reach other kids.

The Ebony Club proved to be a vital contributing factor to the excellent amount of school spirit generated this year. They attended meetings every Thursday morning throughout the School year. ``The Ebony Club is designed to help get the black students more involved in school activities and keep them from being segregated from the white students,'' said Mrs. McHenry, sponsor of Ebony Club.

In December they participated in the Kwanzaa festival which celebrates the first fruits observed by Afro-Americans.

They often bring in motivational speakers to build confidence in the kids and give some helpful advice. Over-all Ebony Club had a very productive year and will continue to do so in the future.

Our Top Academic Groups Serve School & Community

The 1986-87 National Honor Society had a productive and enriching year. The induction ceremony at Centennial Hall gave the society a great start with 46 new members. Some of their activities included service projects like visiting the Sirrine Center, participating in the school blood drives, visiting nursing homes, and participating in toy drives for the Mesa Child Crisis Center. Also included was the traditional campus beautification project and Christmas tree donation. They also kept busy organizing fundraisers throughout the year. The success of the club was due to an exceptional group effort and the excellent leadership of the club officers and sponsors.

The Mayor's Youth Committee was a group of high school students from the entire city of Mesa who came together to work for the benefit of the community. Westwood made a commendable contribution by sending 45 students. In addition to these members, Westwood was honored to have two of its students on the executive council. They were Kristeen Harris and Verity Lerman. The 1986-87 representatives were Anne DeJong and Theresa Gonzalez. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Merrell who contributed a lot of time.

In celebration of Westwood's 25th anniversary we bring a blast from the past, the '68-'69 National Honor Society. Westwood's Orchestra Program Proves To Be Top Notch

This year's orchestra was excellent as usual at Westwood. Although, this year was quite different from any that they have ever experienced.

They had a brand new building to inspire all the young musicians. "Westwood outgrew our music building 15 years ago, and we've been waiting 8 years for a building that is capable of holding everything we need. It is exeptional, and will be a 'showcase' building when we host regional and state festivals." said Bob Cunningham, the band director.

It has been a rough year for the students because of the serious illness of Kim Thompson, the orchestra director. This sickness caused him to be absent from school over 3 months, which put alot of stress on the kids, Mr. Cunningham, and the substitute teacher. "It is hard to keep the students high-spirited and energetic when their teacher cannot participate in the excitement and the victories that the orchestras achieve." said Chris Rich, orchestra council president.

But in spite of everything the groups still sounded terrific! They participated in the A.B.O.D.A. State orchestra festival and the Regional large group festival, which qualified them for the State finals festival at A.S.U. in the spring. They received superior ratings in all.

Honors, Accolades Acquired By Musical Groups

Westwood's music department reflects it's members enthusiasm through outstanding performances and accomplishments. The Warrior, Apache and Marching Bands all have something to show for their participants' hard work and commitment, whether it be a trophy or a feeling of satisfaction.

Warrior and Apache Band drew large audiences to hear their entertaining programs all year long. Their showmanship added another reason to consider Westwood as #1.

The Marching Band truly inspired us at pep assemblies, parades and especially rallied spirit and pride at games. One reward for their long hours of practice was receiving a superior rating for their performance in Band Day at Northern Arizona University.

The effort put into each of these groups was strenuous and required dedication. Success is not only due to the skilled direction of Mr. Bob Cunningham but also to each member individually. Together the Warrior, Apache and Marching Band created and continued the tradition of Westwood's musical style.

Minority Scholars Excel; Languages Working Hard

Westwood's foreign language clubs were alive with school spirit again this year. The French, German and Spanish Clubs held various fundraisers and activities throughout the school year.

Mr. Ferguson, who sponsored the French Club planned an exciting year. A Halloween costume party started off the year and at Christmas a lucky family was adopted. The French Club also participated in foreign language week in order to inform other students about the club.

The German Club, sponsored by Miss Bailey, planned a year of luncheons and dinners. The second year classes of German cooked an entire full course German meal. Highlights for the year included Taichewee (join a club week) and foreign language week in hopes to interest other students in German. The German Club also sold gummi bears and pretzels.

Mr. Barab with help from Mr. Richardson, sponsored the Spanish Club this year. A banquet and social were a couple of the activities the club participated in. The big event of the year was the visit of Mexican students from Guymas. The Guymas students also performed dances for various schools in the valley. Students from Westwood then traveled south of the border to study the culture and language of Mexico.

All of Westwood's foreign language clubs had a busy and eventful year. No matter what the activity, each club displayed great Westwood spirit throughout the year.

Various Groups Educational Opportunities

Westwood's AFS, foreign exchange proprogram, has new and exciting students from various countries. The visiting students are Mogens Haahr and Mauds Clausen from Denmark, Stefanie Kappmeyer from West Germany, Tutti Tintore from Spain, and Marianne Sunde from Norway. AFS provides friendship and support for these students. The club also provides fund raisers for scholarship money for Westwood students to study abroad.

Students participating in Excellence in Academics study for the Academic Deacthlon. Each year the association changes the information keep it up to date. The Academic Decathlon program promotes students achievement in public, private, and parochial high schools. Decathlon activities provides opportunity for students to realize the potential of their intellectual ability and to appreciate the intrinsic value of academic pursuit. High School participate in buildings, regional, and state competition to represent their state on a national level.

F.F.A. is a great opportunity for H.S. students to study vocational agriculture. They also learn leadership, responsiblity, and responsibility and how to cooperate with others, and to create a love of country life. F.F.A. members exhibit animals and crops they have raised in local, county, and state fairs. Members conduct safety campaigns and home improvement projects. This develops competent and aggressive leadership. One of the activities that F.F.A. holds is the annual Canned Food Drive to benefit the needy. Prizes are awarded to the groups who bring in the most cans, but the greatest reward of all is to be able to give something of value to someone less fortunate than yourself. F.F.A. members enjoy camping and other recreational activities in the summer to encourage year round participation in F.F.A.

Through The Years With People

The period between 1982 and 1986 was one of diversity and newness. Those four years saw many firsts, some tragic and some exciting. Some advances were made during those four years.

The world of science experienced a variety of advances and set-backs. After many years of research and disappointments, a medical team in California performed the first successful heart transplant in 1983. In the same year, Americans were afraid to take Tylenol for their headaches. Tylenol capsules were being laced with cyanide. The incurable autoimmune deficiency symdrome (AIDS) appeared in the United States and took the lives of thousands of people. Early in 1986, amateur and professional astronomers all over the world dusted off their telescopes to view Halley's Comet- Millions of people gazed at the comet, which makes an appearance once every 75 years. One of the most tragic times for NASA and the whole country was when the Challenger space shuttle blew up a few minutes after launch.

The variety of cultural happenings during those four years are as numerous and different as the people who participated in them. Americans were drawn together by patriotism when the 1984 Olympics were held in Los Angeles. U.S. athletes won 83 gold medals. People all over the world were enchanted by the romance and subsequent marriage of Prince Charles to Lady Diana. The United States became the target of various terrorist acts in the 80's. The bombing of the U.S. embassy in Beirut, numerous airplane hijackings and other terrorist acts. The 80's brought a wave of caring toward people all over the world. Band-Aid, Hands Across America and Farm Aid are just a few examples of Americans trying to help their neighbors. 1983 and 1984 were the years of the Cabbage Patch doll, the first black Miss America, Vanessa Williams, and the ensuring scandal of her appearance in Playboy, and the first time in 133 years that the World Cup left America to travel down under to Australia. The early 80's was a time for women. Sandra Day O'Connor was the first woman appointed to the Supreme Court. Sally Ride was the first woman in space. The first woman to appear on a major party ticket was Geraldine Ferraro with Walter Mondale.

On a local level, change was the key word. In 1981 cruising was banned on Main Street. Jack Joyce became the new principal of Westwood. Hank Luedy joined the Westwood staff as vice-principal. In 1984 senior "ditch week" was abolished by the administration. 1985 marked the first time that Westwood defeated Mt. View twice in one football season.

The years from 1982 to 1986 were filled with new events. The events of those four years ran the gamut from local triumphs to international tragedies. Overall, those years were a time of successful advances to be proud of.

Our Superintendents and Principals

Westwood High School was indeed fortunate when E. R. Brimhall was selected as the building/founding principal. He chose his initial staff and faculty carefully and deliberately, planning every detail of this great new high school with love and care one goal, the very best for the students.

Having thirty two years experience as principal, coupled with his "down to earth horse sense", "Mr. B.", as he was lovingly called, knew what made a good high school, and he had the courage to forge ahead and get the job done. He was loyal to his staff, but expected them to produce the maximum, and was not reluctant to reprimand them when they did not. The students loved this caring man; they knew he was tough, but they also knew he was fair, and that he would listen.

Mr. Melvin S. Sizemore's tenure as principal was brief, due to his untimely death at the close of his first year. This native Arizonan began his career in education in 1954 as a teacher at Mesa High School. He later went into administration and moved to Westwood with Mr. Brimhall when we opened our doors in September, 1962. He was fortunate to have received his training under the "master principal", E. R. Brimhall, and they made a fine team during those formative years.

Mr. Sizemore was not afraid of hard work, and when he assumed the reins in 1969 to lead the Warriors successfully, using the guidelines under which Westwood had flourished those first eight years; Westwood reaped the reward.

Mr. Rulon T. Shepherd served as our superintendent of schools until his retirement in 1967. The growth in Mesa after the war triggered the growth in our school system, and Mr. Shepherd must be recognized for his leadership which stimulated the orderly progress during this first period of the population explosion.

One of the high points in his career occurred when the Westwood auditorium was completed during his last year. Since the fine arts was his first love, it was only fitting that the auditorium be dedicated to and named in his honor.

Mr. Shepherd is fondly remembered as the soft spoken, kind and caring man a man of vision and concern for all people.

Dr. George N. Smith took over the reins of Mesa Public Schools during the population explosion. This native Arizonan had spent his entire life in education, having served as the superintendent of Flowing Wells for many years. Only a person with his knowledge and expertese could have successfully guided our district through the succeeding seventeen years of rapid growth and building, attaining national recognition. Dr. Smith deserves a great deal of credit for our success.

Westwood was near and dear to the heart of Dr. Smith; his two sons were Warriors, and being the achiever that he was, he basked in the glory that was Westwood's.

He left Mesa Public Schools in 1984 to accept a position of Vice President of Northern Arizona University.

Dr. James K. Zaharis is almost a native of Arizona, he was born in California, but moved to Mesa when he was two years of age. He received his elementary and secondary education in Mesa, graduating from Mesa High School in 1959; he received his B.A. from N.A.U. and all of his graduate degrees from A.S.U. No superintendent has had more exposure to Mesa Public Schools than has Dr. Zaharis. In 1965 he accepted a teaching position at Mesa High School; three years later he was named Director of Special Projects for Mesa Public Schools; from there he moved up to the superintendency as Assistant Superintendent and in 1984 was selected as Superintendent.

Dr. Zaharis' lifetime in the community and Mesa Public Schools is a real asset in fulfilling his present role. This knowledgeable young man has all of the educational skills necessary, coupled with the awareness of the needs of the community to maintain the high standards of education for Mesa Public Schools which are nationally acclaimed.

James S. Sturdevant devoted most of his adult life to education. A native of Oklahoma, he came to Mesa in the early sixties spending several years with the Scottsdale School System before joining Mesa Public Schools in 1967.

Jim Sturdevant, third principal of Westwood, inherited a school that had, in nine short years, achieved success unequalled by any other in the state. He was determined to maintain that standard of excellence; his success is evidenced by the winning of the HY HENDRICKSON AWARD, the most prestigious in the state, for three consecutive years.

Jim Sturdevant was a soft spoken, low key, kind and caring man. His contribution to Westwood during his eleven year tenure is reflected in its many successes.

Mr. Jack J. Joyce, our current principal, was a native of Rhode Island. He spent most of his adult life in education in New York, moving to Arizona in 1979. He had been with the Mesa School District only two years, but his outstanding performance at Fremond Junior High School was recognized by the superintendency, and he was appointed as Westwood's fourth principal.

He brought his enthusiasm and expertese to Westwood in 1981 and developed instant love for Westwood. This smiling, energetic man is visible on campus every lunch hour and can call most students by name. He cares about these students, as is evidenced by his desire to maintain the finest teaching staff possible.

Everyone marvels at his ability to attend all events, fine arts, athletic and academic. He oversees every aspect of the running of this high school in his desire to maintain Westwood's number one status of excellence in all areas.

When Westwood High School opened its doors on that hot day in August, 1962, little did the community of Mesa realize that they were giving birth to a truly great high school. Getting its beginning under the capable leadership of E. R. Brimhall, Westwood gained stature in every field of endeavor ... academics, athletics, fine arts, and agriculture. This Camelot climate was not an accident; it was carefully planned and orchestrated by its dedicated leaders and staff.

In the beginning there were only freshmen and sophomores ... they were totally housed in the academic building ... it was the only building completed in 1962. They held a constitution convention, fought bitterly over the choice of school colors and mascot and then united to build a great high school. In 1965 Westwood graduated its first seniors ... and their accomplishments were awesome ... state titles in football, track, and swimming; state honors in music and agriculture. The people of Arizona knew there was a WESTWOOD HIGH SCHOOL.

We still didn't have an auditorium, so after two failures in bond elections to build one, our students made a "house to house" plea to voters on election day. We won with a slight majority, and Shepherd Auditorium was opened in 1967. Students sold magazines to raise money to buy band uniforms and bleachers for our stadium, thus giving them a feeling of ownership which was so deeply ingrained in the student body. As a result, this pride and caring has been transmitted to students throughout Westwood's 25 years.

In 1975 the Arizona Interscholastic Association created the H. HENDRICKSON AWARD to be awarded to the school in Arizona qualifying in all AREAS OF EXCELLENCE. Westwood won this coveted award for three consecutive years. Throughout the twenty-five years there have been numerous state titles in track, swimming, gymnastics, tennis; our musicians place more students in ALL STATE than any other school; our FFA always competes well nationally; and academically we have received honors and millions of dollars in scholarships. From E. R. Brimhall to Jack Joyce we have always had capable, dedicated leadership and a staff who cares about every aspect of each Westwood student's life.

Counselors Aid Students In School Preparation

The Westwood Counseling Department consists of six full-time counselors whose mission is to help students achieve greater understanding of themselves in order to make more effective use of their intellectual and personal resources. Students make appointments to discuss personal, vocational, academic and social concerns. The counselors also provide academic advice, build class schedules and make adjustments in the students' academic program of study.

The department provides orientation, college and career guidance programs administered through the English and Social Studies Departments. Additionally each counselor provides other guidance services: Annette McHenry is the out-of-state college liaison counselor, coordinator of the school testing program and sponsor of the Ebony Club. Dolores Merrell sponsors the Women Scholars and Minority Scholars. Jack Frontone, Department Chairman, directs the scholarship and academy applicant services. Anthony Suriano coordinates the Red Folder program and oversees the Career Center services. Mary Ellen Anderson directs the Take Charge program, is a member of the awards committee, and is coordinator of the school testing program and music scholarships. Herman Otero has responsibility for Minority Recruitment, student cafeteria workers and is liaison to Mesa Vo-Tech.

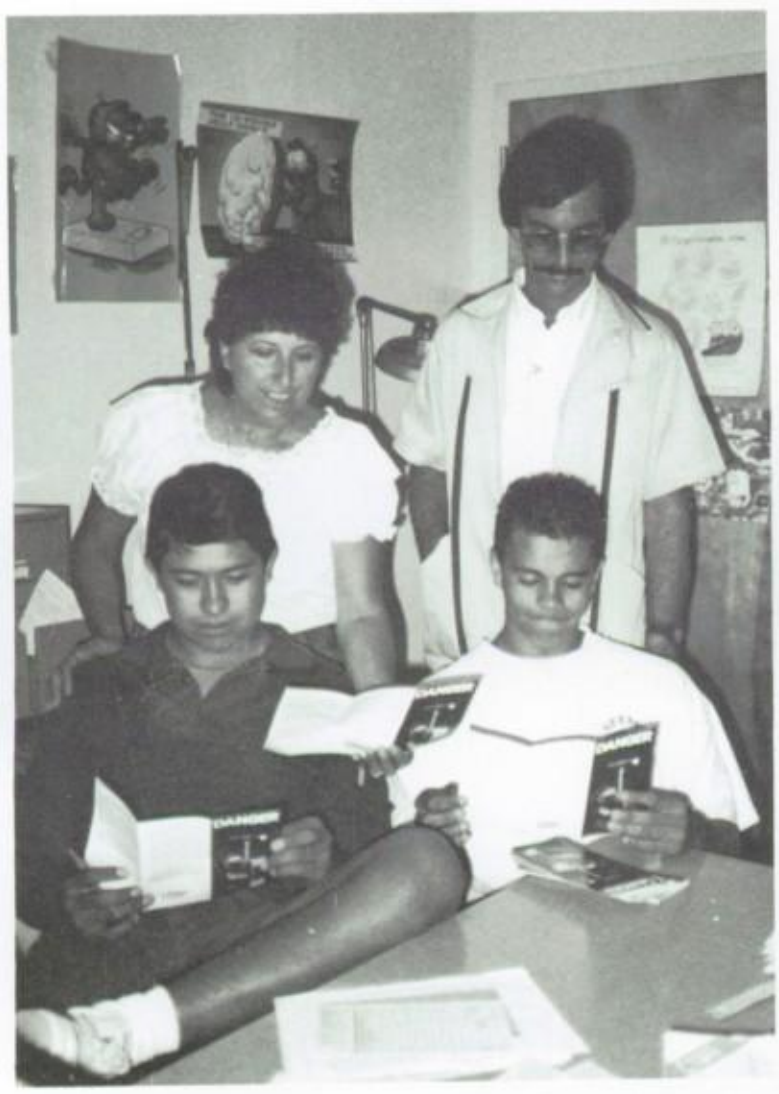
Behind The Scenes

"School days, school days, good old golden rule days-well, school is more than this, much more. With 2,850 students to accomodate (and that's a lot!) administrators have found that more has to be provided than just a classroom and a teacher. Westwood has a preponderance of facilities and people to aid the students through their three years of residence. If a student is sick, he can just bet there's a nurse just down the hall ready and waiting; need help with a drug problem? You can just bet there's a counselor just around the corner from the nurse who'll lend a hand.

Is that teacher's lecture becoming really boring? Audio Visual can break up the monotony by providing tape recorders, film projectors, movie screens, you name it. If a student runs out of money and would like to read a book, there are freebies in the library, just check them out (remember to bring them back). While the student is there and wants to dash out a quick letter there are free typewriters to use. If a student does have a few bucks he might go to the bookstore. He probably won't be able to get an A.S.U. Rose Bowl sweatshirt, but he will get pens, pencils, paper, erasers, etc.

Have you got a grumbling in your tum tum? That can be cured too, boogie on down to the Chow Palace and you can tie your tongue around a submarine sandwich, giant order of fries, and a thick chocolate shake, all for a buck, can't beat that! To all the people who give their special services, Westwood salutes you.

Chris DeLaFuente displays his expertise during the lunch rush at the Chieftain Chow Palace by producing tacos in record time!



The arm of learning stretches far beyond the classroom into the nurses office where Mrs. Ucci, Richard Edward, David Gonzalez, and Sammy Aguirre become aware of the dangers involved with drugs.

Performers Excited New Building Here!

During the 1986-87 school year, Westwood's Performing Arts Department succeeded in entertaining thousands of people at various functions.

All of the bands did a splendid job of playing at games and concerts. Orchestra too captivated their audiences during their concerts and productions. Members of both band and orchestra were very happy to finally move into the new music building during the fall. Years of agitation coming from working in inadequate facilities have finally ended.

Drum Major Karl Huish continued in the steps of past Warriors by conducting himself as a true grit leader. Once again, the Music Dept. placed more people in honor bands and orchestras than any other school in the district.

The theatre dept. developed a strong crew of eager performers this year. One of the year's highlights was the dramatic production of "The Affect of Gamma Rays on Merrigold Men in the Moon." Masque and Dagger once again filled the bill with their dedication and hard working attitude.

This has been a banner year for the performing artists here at Westwood, a year that many of these people won't soon forget. Proven to be a hit with the school and the community, Westwood's Performing Arts Dept. looks forward many more years in the spotlight.

ABOVE: ATTENTION! Colonel Conger salutes one of the highly respected troops from Westwood's Air Force Junior R.O.T.C. This organization must put forth a lot of effort in order to maintain their high standards and to achieve their numerous high honors.

For the past 25 years and hopefully many more to come, the staff in the Industrial Arts Department have worked diligently to achieve and set standards of excellence in teaching students at Westwood various skills.

With first rate instructors and great facilities, the skills learned by students are ones that can be applied to future careers, such as electronics, drafting, carpentry, and working with metals.

Students show their talent by making shelves, television stands, book cases, gun racks, and can openers. The outstanding students of this year displayed their talent at the State Fair. Trevor Stadler made a chess set and Preston Peterson made a roll top desk. Both did an outstanding job.

Some of Westwoods past Industrial Arts students have continued with their talents to work for cabinet companies, or architects, metal and welding companies.

Before the students began making the projects, they first learned the proper procedures and the right way to have a successful project. The teachers' main objective was to help the students find where their talent was or even develop a new one, and make the students feel comfortable with what they were doing.

Westwood had many classes to offer students who were artistically inclined. Along with these classes came an original staff of dedicated workers.

TOP RIGHT: Mark Cesta and Jody Chapman work diligently on their electronics project. ABOVE: Rob Merkley and Doyle Holloway discuss the importance of a saw in woodworking.

Participation In Art Class Overwhelms Students

This year's Art Department is definitely one of talent and will leave their mark on Westwood in a very positive way. This was a great year for everyone and won't be soon forgotten thanks to the accomplishments of the Art Club. Their major project of the year was the mural that they painted on the South wall of the Cafeteria. The mural is a tribute to Westwood and its first twenty-five years.

The Department itself consists of 8 major classes that are related to various fields of art. Some of them are: ceramics, photography, painting, and jewelry making. These classes and others encourage talented students to apply their knowledge and gives others the opportunity to express their thoughts and ideas in a physical way.

With skillful teachers and dedicated students it is no surprise to see the many accomplishments brought forth by these people. We can certainly expect a great deal from the Art Department in the years to come, as we have in the past.

Once again, the staff has put forth a lot of time and effort and has met their high standard of teaching the students of Westwood.

Math, Science Combine To Produce Excellence

Who needs it? Although when most students think of math and science they think of long hard work, each teacher is committed to helping the students learn as much math and science as his brain can handle. A lot of teachers put in more hours before school, after school or even during lunch to help assist students who need a little help.

Many of you may be considering jobs that do not require a college degree, however, many colleges apprenticeship programs have age limits for admissions, making it difficult to have not taken the coursework in high school.

A student who takes algebra and geometry in high school and earned a "C" grade has a much better chance of succeeding, both in college and in the work world, than a student who avoids these subjects altogether.

Westwood's math and science departments are dedicated to helping the students get ahead. Both departments offer Advance Placement classes through which students can earn college credit while still in high school by taking a comprehensive exam at the end of the year. These departments are also aware of the necessity of having a strong math and science background in order to compete for most occupations.

English, Foreign Language Meet New Challenges

25 years of EXCELLENCE made its mark in Westwood's English department. Not only did the teaching staff expand with the addition of Mrs. Duerksen, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Pletenik, Mr. Cork, and Mr. Landua to meet needs of increased enrollment and the new requirement for senior English, but the choice of class selections did also: minority lit, journalism 1, Fundamentals 1 & 2 and writing lab.

Westwood's English department ventured into the world of computers. This year both the creative writing classes and the writing lab switched to using the computer word processor to improve writing and revision and to edit and print the literary magazine. The department is building a software selection for regular and remedial tutoring.

This year Mr. Dant taught a writing across the curriculum seminar for the faculty. He had been sent by the district to take part in the Greater Phoenix Writing Project last summer. In October, Mrs. Bordwell received Arizona English teacher of the year award at the regional conference for National Council of English Teachers.

Westwood should be equally proud of the fine foreign language department. Several foreign languages such as French, German, Latin and Spanish are offered to every Warrior. Such linguistic teachers and students represent Westwood well.

Next Stop, Muscle Beach?!

Once again, as in past years, Boy's Physical Education proved to be one of the most popular classes here at Westwood. As the variety of activities widened students had many to choose from.

Some of the many activities offered were, basketball, weightlifting, running, soccer, and raquetball. Weight training proved to be most in demand by students this year. Since sophomore physical education is now a required class, the volume of enrollment was larger than ever. Due to the abundance of sophomores it was necessary to add "Sophomore Only" classes to the list of boy's P.E. courses. Sports were a big favorite among students this year. Sports gave every boy the chance to have fun while keeping fit. Goals of Boy's Physical Education were to make classes and special activities seem more attractive and to increase enrollment for next year.

The Boy's Physical Education was very pleased with the student's enthusiasm and hard work. The department did a great job this year of shaping up the "Westwood bodies" for those demanding tasks in life. Their encouragement began in the weight room, extended to the field, and continued in the gym. The dedication and effort of the teachers and students are noble attributes and Westwood is lucky to possess such quality.

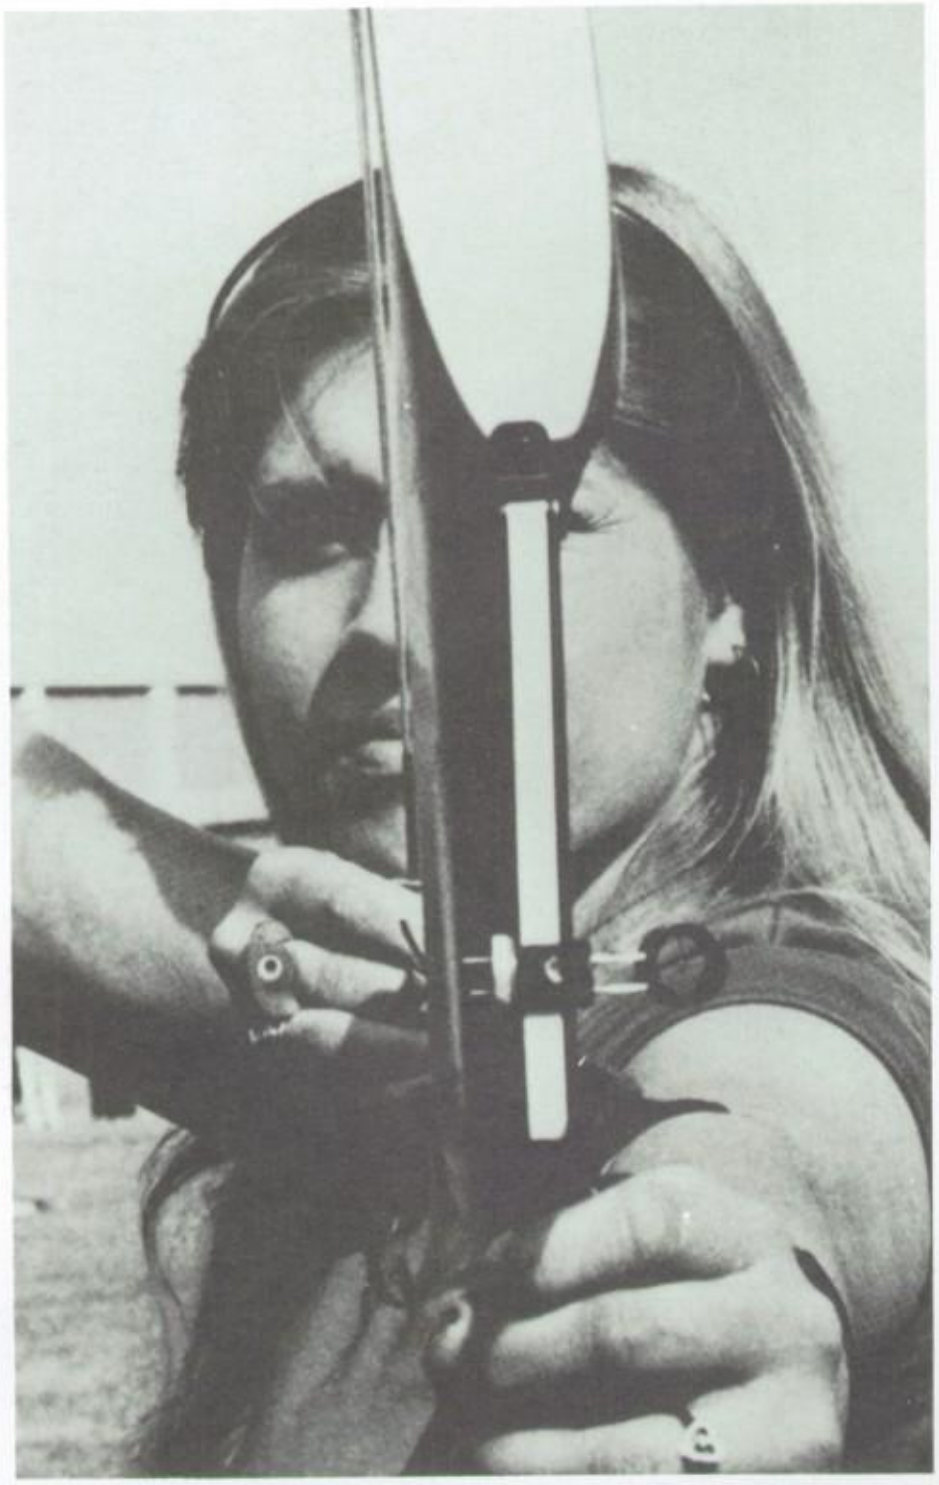
Girls Are Firm And Fit Thanks To Great P.E. Conditioning Program



This year the girls p.e. department was happy to see an increased interest in p.e. The success was due to the variety of courses offered. Some of the classes were aerobics, an extensive dance program, weight training, p.e. activities in which individuals were free to choose what dual, individual, and team activities they wanted to participate in, and required p.e., a class that covered a large area of different activities with an emphasis on developing fitness skills in "life long" sports.

Also available was the opportunity for girls to try out for a sports team. Westwood now has nine girls teams which consist of archery, badminton, cross country, track, basketball, softball, volleyball, swimming, and tennis. All have done a very good job this year.

On the girls P.E. staff there are seven women who contribute to its success. There is Ms. Munoz, who coaches badminton and tennis; Ms. Anderes, who teaches aerobics and weight training; Ms. Pellegrino, who teaches dance part-time; Mrs. Zarkou, who teaches dance and is in charge of Dance Production; Mrs. Sturdevant, who teaches aerobics and is sponsor of the Warriorettes; Mrs. Cooper, who is in charge of Cheer; and Ms. Clifton, who is the physical education aide. They do a great job.

Next year the plan is to extend the program even further. The Administration is in the process of turning the old music building into a new girls p.e. annex.

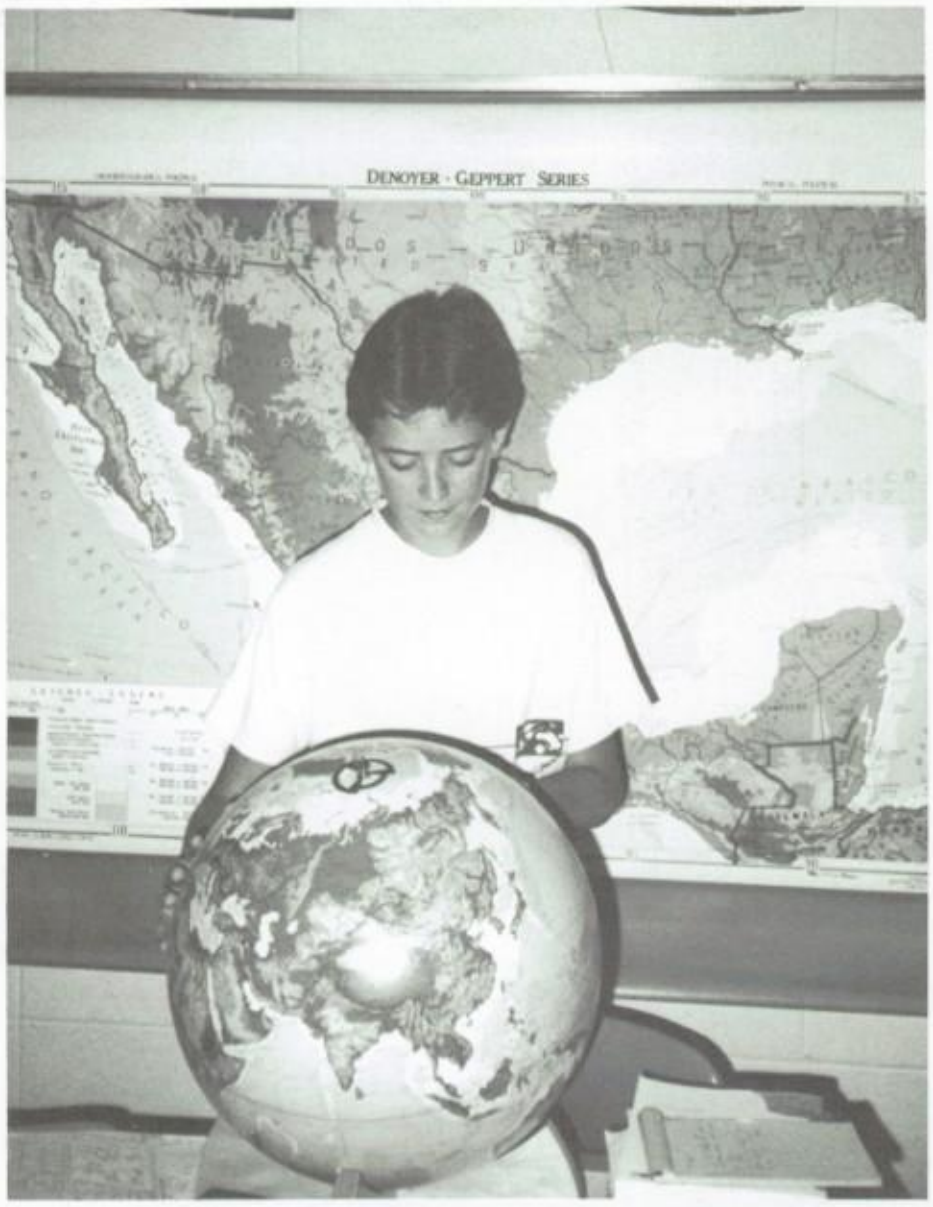
Social Studies A Must Graduation Depends On It



The Social Studies Department, staffed with some of the finest teachers at Westwood, offers the students a wide variety of subjects to study. These include the required courses of U.S. History, AP U.S. History, Arizona History, Free Enterprise, and American Government, and to broaden the students understanding of man, Sociology, Psychology, Home and Family, Western Civilization, and Building a Modern World are offered.

In order to offer students a practical approach to their studies, the department sponsors the Close Up and Model United Nations Programs.

Mr. Persyian, 1987 Close Up sponsor, will accompany several students to Washington D.C. where the students will spend a week studying our national government. While there, they will meet with senators and congressman, see Congress in session and visit the White House.

Mr. Casillas, Model U.N. sponsor, will lead a group of students to the Model U.N. program sponsored by the University of Arizona. While there they actively participate in activities identical to the real U.N. in New York.

Mr. Wells annually takes a group of interested students to Europe each summer. They visit the countries and major cultural cities of Europe for a month of learning and fun.

In addition to the department members mentioned above, Mr. Cummins, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Montalvo, and Ms. Stangl are coaches of several sports. Ms. Gambill is the student council sponsor and also teaches Westwood's Academic Decathalon class.

Have you ever been stranded on an open road because of mechanical problems, only to find out later that with a little knowledge, you could have fixed it yourself with little or no cost? Students in Westwood's auto classes should have encountered very few instances of that sort of situation. Under instructor Mr. Gezelius, auto students learned some of the basic knowledge required to maintain an automobile. Course difficulty ranged from basic instruction for the beginning student, to more demanding classes like advanced body and fender for the students who were considering auto mechanics as a career.

The agriculture department was once again refining the skills of Westwood students interested in farm animals, planting and various other activities associated with agriculture. Many of the students enrollled in the various classes planned to pursue careers in that field. As in the past, Westwood's agriculture department proved to be one of the best in the state.

Knowing more than just cows and plows, the students in ag. worked hard to achieve both personal and class goals. Under excellent instruction, the students worked with nature, learning some of the laws which rule it.

Business Department Molds Future Millionaires And Coorperation Presidents

Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA), have proven how strong an organization can be. Westwood's head of Business, Mr. Foster, gives high recognition to this past years members, who were "never content with their accomplishments, therefore always striving to do better."

For starters, a visual display board expressing the many achievements of the students has been placed in hall four. And speaking of achievements, it was a very successful year for the competitors of the statewide competition, and especially the national finalists.

With the new arrival of computers this past year, two new courses were offered, Word Processing, and Business Applications, which has helped meet the needs of the students and better prepared them for the world of work. The department was very impressed with the high enrollment of the students this past year, and the exceptional potential of these students.

Westwood commends this year's FBLA members for both an outstanding and rewarding year, and is confident of their success and their future in the world of business. In addition, the efforts and talents of the entire Business Department should be recognized for their contribution to Westwood's past and future.

Home Ec has a sauceful of Secrets

The Home Economics department had many interesting projects going on throughout this 86-87 school year.

For example, the Inside Fashion and Fabrics class took a field trip to Los Angeles to see how clothes are made.

The Child Development class ran a nursery school for children between the ages of two and four.

Home Economics Related Occupation, or HERO, was running strong throughout the school year.

In the fall, the food and clothes classes conducted a holiday fair. In the spring, they had an art show displaying some of the sewing, cake decorating, and foods that students learned how to make during the school year.

Although sometimes overlooked by some students, the Home Economics Department had a great deal to offer to the enterprizing student. Single Survival and various other classes prepared students for their futures. The skills gained at Westwood from the Home Ec. Dept. will continue with our graduates into their adult lives.

Westwood is privileged to have such a strong staff in such a vital area of education.

Enduring my high school yrs. has been quite a trial. The "Best yrs. of Your Life", huh, short lived and gone. It seems like yesterday I took the big step into high school.

I think some of my best times have been spent playing basketball. Coach T. and Coach D. have been an important influence in my life. Seeing them everyday for three yrs. has to have some influence. Through basketball I have made many of my closest friends. Westwood has been the key for these friendships. I have had many great times in all those practices. Believe me, all the 17's will never be forgotten.

Being in Student Council for the past yr. has taught me alot about the school. Working long and hard hours on things we usually take for granted. Setting up dances, and oh those great formal business meetings. These are the things everyone should experience. I have enjoyed getting to know and working with the administration.

I have learned and received alot from Westwood. So now it's goodbye. I owe a thanks to Westwood and all my friends for a great three yrs.

I have thoroughly enjoyed my yrs. at Westwood. Some of the best yrs. of my life were spent at this beautiful place. This school is unique in that, Westwood has a mixed crowd. You don't get just one certain block of people. Also, I think Westwood has one of the best staffs in Arizona. They are helpful, friendly and outgoing. That's probably the most important part of school.

I remember when I was a Sophie, way back when, and how much of a slacker I was. I was just happy about being at Westwood and nothing else. I bombed all my schoolwork and classes.

Then my Junior yr. I sort of got my head on straight, caring a little bit more about homework, but not enough. Now I think I've got a good system of time management and my homework comes before anything else. I have learned that school is for schoolwork and not for socializing. When you get into college, homework is the only thing that matters (in the long run at least). To end, I just have to say, enjoy your yrs. at Westwood, it goes fast (maybe to fast)

As we walked on campus overly excited and very nervous about our big step into highschool. It was probably very easy to point out we're Sophies. Running after cars for a ride to lunch at first, we finally found a regular one. We fit 20 or so girls into a pick-up everyday. It was great; we could ride to the football games and everything and they we're fun wern't they??!!

Rappin' was cool. Fatboys and RUN DMC was where it was at. We ran with the pack M.B., K.C., and all those cool cats. Then came our Jr. yr., cruzin' in the coaster and jammin' out to Lisa, Lisa in the parking lot late that friday night. Our football team was hot we had the spirit as we drove the "Happy Machine" thanxs J.B. sorry she's got the look. We're sorry for the red cramps bug. K. B. graduated to borrowing from Carl's Jr. we captured the flag for 55.

Sadies was a blast and then came Prom it was the best. Thanks J.W. Now we sit in our glory. Our last yr. has come and now it's gone. To all those who are to come forth. Hold those Warriors who have gone through stay . . .

Well, my supposed "glory days" have come and gone. These were the best days of my life, my prime so I'm told. I don't believe it though. Life has just begun. There is so much lying ahead and I'm going to explore it all. I have had many memorable moments and have enjoyed my time at Westwood. I'll always look back on my high school days with a smile. I do believe that many good memories have been born here. I've always held W.W. in high respect and esteem and respect it's fine attributes.

My fondest memories come from the many friends I've made. There is a closeness here at W.W. and relationships were easily developed. But now the time has come to leave. It's a helpless feeling and a question you don't really think about until it comes down to the end. There are some people we may never see again. But none the less, we move on.

I'll miss W.W.! I'll miss the football, basketball, and baseball games, band days, choral trips, the class activities and all the other great times. To all my friends and acquaintences, I wish you success and the best of luck.

If anyone needs me in the future, my house is yours. We're all a big family here! Maybe we'll have lumch sometime, pull out the yr. book, and talk about the good times and laugh at the styles. For those I don't see again . . . maybe in the big roundup in the sky! Live on, I'll look to the future!

It seems that our high school years at Westwood have rolled by. As I look back on these three years, I realize that I only retained about one percent of anything I ever studied.

But all work and no play makes Scott a dull boy. My fondest memory of Westwood is the different ways I got to the parking lot. My sophomore year I rode a ten-speed, which built character. My junior year I drove an old grey celica celica, which built more character. Finally, my senior year I drove a slick white Celica that built me ego.

I also remember graduation nights. As sophomores we stayed up all night waiting for a bus trip to Youth Conference. As juniors, we spent most of a very long evening in a grocery store, only to buy six popcicles. And who could forget my senior graduation night?

Please, let's not forget the clubs and organizations I had so much time and money invested in it. National Honor society, student council, Interact, and the Extremists were among my favorites. With all my time being spent outside of the classroom, I guess the only reason I made it through high school is because I held the iron rod. Thanx, Westwood

As my Westwood years come to an end, all my memories seem to rush into one another all trying to get an inch on a piece of paper. So much has happened during my 3 years here.

My sophomore year was great. I can still remember when I first hung out with S.L. WHAT A NIGHT!! "Don't run in the street without shoes on!" Thanks so much for all your pep talks and friendship. I'm glad you're my best friend.

My junior year was quite memorable. I joined the yearbook staff, where I stayed for 2 years. I've made many friends through the class. It was alot of fun. Thanks to Mr. Mattix, he made chemistry my 1 subject. Unfortunately, having J.W.in my class was a huge hazard. I'll never forget the famous spy missions with L.R., or the time with R.H. and K.H., when we went to the basketball championships at A.S.U. to find "10" but found the van! We sure had fun!

My senior year was one of both joy and sorrow. I can remember how I tried to pay attention in all my classes but wound up talking. Remember S.B.? In Government? Now I know why I always had so much homework.

As I approach graduation and make plans for college, I'll always look back at all the memories I have of Westwood.

P.S. to S.H., "Can I have a cup of cwoffee for a qwartah?"
Good luck class of '87!!

"Happiness is being a senior and being able to stand by the senior lockers," says Kyle Johnson, Dennis Tingey, John Burtzoff, and Greg Robinson.

Our friends are the essence of our Highschool yrs. To that statement Mrs. Huffaker may ask, "What do you mean and how do you know?" I mean, how else could one endure the Sophie blues of frantically looking for a Sr. acquaintence to take you to lunch or being a Jr. in limbo, caught between inferiority and superiority and then of course Sr. year, eager only to make it to graduation. Having finally reached this destination point you realize your friends have made it possible.

How do I know? Mrs. Huffaker says, "give examples." Well as I look back I realize that I have many examples of friends who have helped me along the way, who have gone through the "ups and downs" of highschool with me. Friends such as these have made events like football games, dances, honor choir, etc. . . fun and memorable times. Friends such as these will never be forgotten.

Undoubtedly, to give all the credit to my friends would be a mistake. Over the past 3 yrs. my teachers have played a major part in influencing me. Many thanks to all of them.

To sum three great yrs. at Westwood in a few short papagraphs is difficult but to put it simply, I wouldn't have made it without my friends. As you can see our friends definitely are the essence of our highschool years.

Thanks Westwood for three yrs. of never-to-be-forgotten memories.

Moving during my Sophie yr. from Casa Grande to Tempe was a big change. The toughest step was going to a new highschool WESTWOOD!! I met many people and earned some good friends. I was surprised at how friendly everyone was.

Things got even better my Jr. yr. I joined the W.W. swim team in which I met many more new friends. This became half of my life. I was proud to be a part of W.W. athletics both my Jr. and SR. yr. It adds alot to your success in school and happiness as a person. Also my Jr. yr. I found out the meaning of hard classes. Every student should push himself to be the best even if it means staying home to do homework.

Now my SENIOR YEAR!!! I guess I did okay. Sometimes one is dropped from being in a studly position for a brief mement. That sometimes is when you drive a LeBaron. That piece of junk I use as a car costs me a date. One either has a good car or a LeBaron, distant cousin of the Nunes "Blue Bomb".

But over all the bad points there are always more good When it comes down to WESTWOOD!!! Have a great life and under classmen, get involved.

Our first day at Westwood is one we will never forget. Being decked out in our new clothes, with our combinations written on our hands, and schedules in our back pockets we were the sophies. The fears at the beginning turned into 3yrs. of fun. Then we got our driverslicenses which brought on many new problems. How bout' our trip to Tucson K.H. we never realized what a mean machine we had until we saw those flashing red lights. Our Jr. yr. also brought on many memories. We mastered the art of spying. Thanks to our noseyness we found ourselves in many binds. And to our favorite "hotdogger" many more ski trips the way they were meant to be.

Finally our Sr. yr. is closing. The memories will never be forgotten, only placed aside as we go our separate ways. Who knows, maybe one day we'll run into each other as we are bargain shopping with our coupons, comparing prices between huggies and pampers! We will forever be grateful to everyone who's showed us the true meaning of friendship. Even though it's time to move forward, we will always be true Warriors; This is only the beginning of the rest of our lives. Stand proud class of '87, WE'VE MADE IT!!!!!

Walking onto the W.W. campus for the first time, I wondered if I would ever find my first class in hall five.

Being in the band help pass my first semester away. And then after dreaming about it for so long I became a pommie and it was reality. Waking up and being at school by 6:50 was a major accomplishment along with learning how to count to 8. After that I was on my way to the top. Pom has given me many great times and friends. Remember all the hours playing truth or dare and b.s. Or almost getting jumped at the b.b. game in Tucson? R.N., alias A.J. has been my life line for the past two years what would I do without you babe??? Mrs. Sturdevant has also been very helpful using her philosophies in life, I will be able to tackle anything. Remember the late night at pom camp T.H. and H.O.!!

Spending time with K.D., P.C., H.B., and C.E. was also so much fun! All the trips up to mill Ave., Flakey J's, and A.S.U.

Last I just wanted to thank V.L. for being my friend. Your friendship means the world to me!!!

I'm going to miss W.W. high, but the memories and my pride for this school will never die!

It's finally over and nobody's more excited than me. Sure, I'll miss good ole' W.W. and all the memories behind it but yes Sophies there comes a time when you have to say good- bye and my time is now. So . . . GOOD-BYE but before I go let's recall back to my Sophie days.

J.V. cheer, Ant 691, T.E. Chicago!! There definately were some great times never to be forgotten. T.S. and K.B. I never thanked the two of you for the advice on the silver bullet. Good thing I did or I would have turned out like the two of you!! T.E. let's not forget our dayly ritual to J in the B with the tabs. Swiss Bacon Burger live on!!!! Then my Jr. yr. So many memories to put into such little space. Tucson! taking off with S.P. and C.B. only to spend the worst weekend ofmy life there. I lived though! C.M. do we dare follow the leader again? Why not! Do I look good as a blonde?

Now it's Grad. time, I can hardly believe it. A.D. your the greatest. Thanks for being a true friend unlike the other boozin' one! Thanks for all. Hey Big D thanks for the advice on the gag! I'm glad we're friends now. Well now I've brought back a few of the many memories and feel better in saying good-bye. Though the warrior spirit will always be inside of me and the yr. of '87 will go down as the best yet!!! I'M OUT OF HERE!!!!!!!!!

Riesa Nunes

Westwood has been the greatest experience of my life. The warriors will always hold a special place in my heart. The three yrs. I have spent here have really changed me.

I felt awkward my Sophie yr. because I came from a school that had only deaf students. I wasn't used to hearing students. I felt a little bit like a nerd because I couldn't communicate with anyone and I didn't have any friends for a few months.

I decided to try-out for the J.V. basketball team. All the players were patient with me and some wanted to learn sign I taught them in secret. One of the players had a foul called on him. The player signed to him instead of yelling at him. The crowedwas surprised and started laughing at him because they knew what he had said. The players had learned sign lang. very well! My heart was warmed, I was proud of them.

I would like to thank some of the people at W.W. who have helped me. First I want to thank Coach Trout and Doolen for learning to communicate with me. Second, I wanted to thank Mr. Jones for forcing me to use my voice. I enjoyed my time in drama class because the students understood me. I'll miss Westwood and will think of it often.

So long warriors!!

Being a Sr. you start recalling all those unbelievable times throughout your highschool yrs.

It feels just like yesterday when I was going to all the dances (hoping to meet one of those Sr. studs) and calling "mommy" to come pick me up in front of the office so nobody would see. Well, the big "16" finally came around for everyone but me, but this still meant going to LA for lunch instead of the Cow Palace. L.W. and R.H. let's go 80 m.p.h. to Tucson! The ford will always be the best.

My Jr. yr. finally came around and was full of excitement and victories. What a yr. in sports. The football team made history-beating Mt. View two times in the same yr. and the B.B. team traveled to A.S.U. for the semi- finals. Some of the funnest times of my life were cheering the mighty Warriors onto victory and getting involved in various school activities. Hey cheer- how 'bout those "Westwood Hoggs?" S.H. ,frog goggles will live on forever!

Here at last, the yr. we've all been waiting for. C.M. your the best friend anyone could have. Thanks for making my Jr. and Sr. yrs. a blast. To the class of '87- Though we drift apart in distance I'll always think of everyone as being right there. Though we have diffrent interests, our experiences are still the same. Though we make many new friends, it is our old and continuous ones that mean the most to me.

The enthusiastic Warrior band cheers the Warriors on to victory.

Publications 25th Year; It Was Truly A Great One

Room 007 was not just another room in the midst of hall three. It was a room filled with unique individuals who worked together to create the finest publications for Westwood. They combined their creative ideas to meet the countless deadlines on newspaper stories and yearbook layouts. This job was taken on by the Chieftain and War Chant staffs, led by the talented editors.

The 25th anniversary of the Chieftain yearbook had the staff working harder than ever this year, combining memories of the past with the present in this silver edition. The five co-editors were Anne DeJong, Kim Blankenburg, Jana Templin, Deborah Gofas, and Robert Weber, while Scott Reynolds handled the business matters. The staff dealt with innumerable times: arranging layouts, writing copies, and creating clever captions.

The War Chant staff completed another successful year led by co-editors Jolie Frederickson and Erin Cramer. "Story Idea Day" was dreaded by most staff members; however, they fulfilled their duties by writing interesting and contraversial stories. As the deadlines grew closer, chaos overcame the room with the typewriter keys flying and people thinking of headlines only to find they wouldn't fit. Overcoming the obstacles, the staff published 12 issues this year, keeping the Warrior's up to date with the news.

Through the years . . . Westwood rejuvenated campus traditions to celebrate its silver anniversary . . . Diamonds sparkled in commemeration of Arizona's statehood . . . Lady Liberty glowed again for six million patriots gathered in New York Harbor in honor of her one hundredth birthday . . .

. . . Nine days, thirty-three minutes and forty-four seconds after take off, Voyager became the first aircraft to circle the world on one tank of gasoline . . . The New York Giants dominated the Denver Broncos with a 39-20 victory in their first Super Bowl win . . . The New York Mets kept fans on the edge of their seats by coming from behind in the seventh game of the World Series to beat the Boston Red Sox . . . The Valley of the Sun caught Devil Mania as Arizona State University traveled to Pasadena to beat Michigan in the Rose Bowl . . . Dennis Conners was the first U.S. skipper to recapture the Americas Cup with a 4-0 victory against Australia . . . Penn State overwhelmed the Miami Hurricanes, 14-10, in the Fiesta Bowl . . .

. . . During two weeks in September, Paris was devastated five times by terrorist bombings which were believed to be part of a Lebanon-based organization . . . Terrorists entered an Istanbul synagogue and gunned down twenty-two worshippers on September sixth . . . While flying arms to the contras, Husenfus was shot down over Nicaragua . . . Meanwhile, the Iranian arms mystery was slowly unfolding . . . Another nuclear accident rocked Europe; in Switzerland a chemical spill from a warehouse polluted the Rhine River . . . A disaster of another kind affected a portion of the west coast of Africa; lethal gas leaked from a volcano in Cameroon, killing 1,754 and countless animals . . . While events around the world were heating up, Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev traveled to cool Iceland to discuss U.S. and Soviet arms . . .

. . . Controversy escalted with the airing of the miniseries, Amerika . . .

. . . Arizona experienced a revival of civil rights . . . The November elections found the Democratic party split and a new Republican governor, Evan Mecham . . . The Mesa city council elected voted yes to keeping the city's most electribying controversy — the blue argon lights on the Western Savings Building are staying . . . No longer do Westwood students have to worry only about finding a parking space on campus-they have to worry about just getting to school, circumventing freeway construction, local detours, and chip sealing . . .

. . . Although many eyes are turned backward, a few couples are looking forward to a bright future . . . The Duke and Duchess of Windsor (formerly Prince Andrew and Sarah Ferguson), began their future together on July 23 . . . Carolyn Kennedy and Edwin Schlossberg tied the knot also . . .

. . . The past combined a mixture of triumphs and tears, victories and defeats, sorrow and elation . . . The future beckons with a hand shrouded in mystery and uncertainty . . . Time's hollow passage continues . . . Through the years . . .

These past three years at Westwood have been really special. Being on the yearbook staff for those years has made it fun but also interesting. I learned responsibility in the yearbook class, and I made so many new friends. I'll never forget the days before each deadline. Everyone scurried around to identify pictures, write captions, and draw layouts, but they were always (well, almost always) completed on time. I'd like to thank the staff for making the class what it was; Dan provided the food, and Kris provided the lessons on the proper techniques to ditch. Thanks goes to Meg who always knew how to get me into trouble and to the other editors for all their help. I would also like to thank Mark B. Without him, I would have never made it through 3rd hour. He was always there to make me laugh and to make the time go by faster. Living in room 007 for three years could not have been as exciting as it was without a fun-loving advisor. Mr. Donovan has such a big imagination! As each holiday approached, I could walk into the room and see staff members busily working as they cut, glued, and glittered decorations to liven up the dreary room. When deadlines had passed and there was time to relax, we would sit in the hallway to discuss anything and everything. Mr. Donovan is one of a kind, and I'm going to miss him and all of his adventures.

Good luck to next year's editors and good luck to Westwood's class of '87!

Deborah Gofas

In glancing through the pages of this past year's book, only an editor would describe it as frustrating. Beating the deadlines wasn't the only race we ran. Carrying out an anniversary theme, printing in color, and knocking out headlines compounded with an everyday oops or two was enough to drive us all looney tunes at times.

In glancing through the pages of this past year, only an editor would describe it as challenging. Fifteen short months ago I didn't know what 3C and 3R forms were. Now, you're looking at Westwood's twenty-fifth yearbook, the first in the Southwest to print both underclass and senior portraits in color.

In glancing through the pages of this past year, only an editor would describe it as rewarding. Mr. Donovan has taught me skills I'll continue to utilize long after I leave this campus. Collaborating with the thirty terrific individuals who produced this publication has been a privilege.

In glancing over through the pages of this past year, I would describe it as unforgettable!! All the memories of past, all the dreams of the future, packed tightly between two covers. Thanks staff, thanks Donovan, it's been ... fun.

Anne DeJong

How could I ever forget Room 007? All the crazy things that happened there would make it impossible to leave behind in my memory. Of all the wonderful things I learned about making a yearbook, the most important lesson learned was friendship. So many new friends were made by lounging and talking in the hall, while other friends became closer than ever, right Kim?

However, I will never forget the frustrating times of a deadline rushing around screaming things like, "Where's my pictures?" and of course most common, "Where's a grease pencil?" These madenning times will all be overlooked as the fun times come to mind. We'll probably have more clips, stickers, bracelets, and dolls than we'll ever know what to do with, but thanks to Donny we'll always know how to be a good bargain shopper and what to do to be a "good baby."

There will never be an experience like the one I've had in Room 007. Thanks to all of the people that made high school just a little bit more special, and especially Donny who became an important part of my life, I love you and I'll miss you.

Jana Templin

It's hard to imagine a day without room 007. It's been such a large part of my life, housing many memories, from the craziest episodes to the most stressed-out moments I've ever endured. Donovan knows, the staffers know, and the other editors know how aroused I can become around deadline . also deserve a thank you for the dedication and hard work you displayed in order to complete this extra-anticipated 25th edition of Chieftain.

However, no one can overlook the party atmosphere the publications classroom exhibits, and the image is all too true. We have had some of the best times keeping up with holiday decorations and a-gift-a-day pals, and still managed to hold the biggest and best Christmas and end-of-the-year bashes ever.

One last thanks has to go to my Bobsey twin, Jana. You made every day so fun, not to mention all the ruts you helped me out of. I love ya! Just think we have a total bracelet wardrobe thanks to this class and to our favorite man in the whole world. Thanks for putting up with us, Donny. I'll miss you. Good luck Warriors of '87.

Kim Blankenburg

My first encounter with room 007, the Yearbook room, was typical. I was confused. During my junior year, my schedule was such that I needed Yearbook class for an English credit. I entered at the semester and planned on being a gopher, a nobody in the world of journalism, because I was the new kid on the block and I wanted to graduate. Fortunately, several people took me under their wing. I was soon swept up in the excitement of the class, and I was promoted to Business Manager of this year's annual. Now I can honestly say, that by the end of my senior year, I actually felt a sense of security in room 007.

A business manager deals with money. To me, money was just figures. But Mr. Donovan showed me the side of economics that dealt with human values. It was a true learning experience for me.

It was not an easy senior year, though. I was on the Yearbook staff, but I was in Mr. Donovan's Newspaper class and on its staff also. Often, I had two different assignments due at the same time in one class. Thank you editors of the Chieftain and the War Chant for understanding my situation and having patience with me. I owe Westwood more than I realize.

Three semesters of Yearbook taught me more than I ever wanted to learn about frustration and deadlines. As an editor I owe the staff much of the credit. Being the only male in my hour, it became a necessity to know when to leave the room to allow otherwise embarrassing conversation.

Thanks goes to my fellow editors, to whom I sometimes felt as more of a hinderence than a helper. Thanks to Roz, Laurie, and Wendy (with the stormy eyes) for putting up with the task at hand. Thanks to Renee for all the pictures that made the yearbook what it is. Thanks to Riesa and Bonnie for their skills on the secret missions to Ford Studios. Thanks to Amy for her enlightening enterpretations of the morning announcements. Thanks to Jennifer and Stephanie for doing the jobs that had to be done.

Good luck to Bobbi who will be one of the editors next year, and of course, thanks to my advisor and friend, without whom my brief hour per day with power wouldn't have been a success.

It's hard to believe this year is already over. Can you believe it was 3 years ago since we had Kacee as a band director? It was great being in the same class with you (Did you really do all that homework?) well I hope you have a really great summer 'cuz next year is going to be a total blast! See ya then! Love ya.

Paula Trujillo

Albert,
Well, hasn't biology been great? haha
I wish I would have got to know you better, unfortunately we were to busy falling asleep in class. Maybe we'll have a class together next year. Have a bitchin summer.

Time Capsule

Through the years . . . Westwood rejuvenated campus traditions to celebrate its silver anniversary . . . Diamonds sparkled in commemeration of Arizona's statehood . . . Lady Liberty glowed again for six million patriots gathered in New York Harbor in honor of her one hundredth birthday . . .

. . . Nine days, thirty-three minutes and forty-four seconds after take off, Voyager became the first aircraft to circle the world on one tank of gasoline . . . The New York Giants dominated the Denver Broncos with a 39-20 victory in their first Super Bowl win . . . The New York Mets kept fans on the edge of their seats by coming from behind in the seventh game of the World Series to beat the Boston Red Sox . . . The Valley of the Sun caught Devil Mania as Arizona State University traveled to Pasadena to beat Michigan in the Rose Bowl . . . Dennis Conners was the first U.S. skipper to recapture the Americas Cup with a 4-0 victory against Australia . . . Penn State overwhelmed the Miami Hurricanes, 14-10, in the Fiesta Bowl . . .

. . . During two weeks in September, Paris was devastated five times by terrorist bombings which were believed to be part of a Lebanon-based organization . . . Terrorists entered an Istanbul synagogue and gunned down twenty-two worshippers on September sixth . . . While flying arms to the contras, Husenfus was shot down over Nicaragua . . . Meanwhile, the Iranian arms mystery was slowly unfolding . . . Another nuclear accident rocked Europe; in Switzerland a chemical spill from a warehouse polluted the Rhine River . . . A disaster of another kind affected a portion of the west coast of Africa; lethal gas leaked from a volcano in Cameroon, killing 1,754 and countless animals . . . While events around the world were heating up, Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev traveled to cool Iceland to discuss U.S. and Soviet arms . . .

. . . Controversy escalted with the airing of the miniseries, Amerika . . .

. . . Arizona experienced a revival of civil rights . . . The November elections found the Democratic party split and a new Republican governor, Evan Mecham . . . The Mesa city council elected voted yes to keeping the city's most electribying controversy — the blue argon lights on the Western Savings Building are staying . . . No longer do Westwood students have to worry only about finding a parking space on campus-they have to worry about just getting to school, circumventing freeway construction, local detours, and chip sealing . . .

. . . Although many eyes are turned backward, a few couples are looking forward to a bright future . . . The Duke and Duchess of Windsor (formerly Prince Andrew and Sarah Ferguson), began their future together on July 23 . . . Carolyn Kennedy and Edwin Schlossberg tied the knot also . . .

. . . The past combined a mixture of triumphs and tears, victories and defeats, sorrow and elation . . . The future beckons with a hand shrouded in mystery and uncertainty . . . Time's hollow passage continues . . . Through the years . . .

These past three years at Westwood have been really special. Being on the yearbook staff for those years has made it fun but also interesting. I learned responsibility in the yearbook class, and I made so many new friends. I'll never forget the days before each deadline. Everyone scurried around to identify pictures, write captions, and draw layouts, but they were always (well, almost always) completed on time. I'd like to thank the staff for making the class what it was; Dan provided the food, and Kris provided the lessons on the proper techniques to ditch. Thanks goes to Meg who always knew how to get me into trouble and to the other editors for all their help. I would also like to thank Mark B. Without him, I would have never made it through 3rd hour. He was always there to make me laugh and to make the time go by faster. Living in room 007 for three years could not have been as exciting as it was without a fun-loving advisor. Mr. Donovan has such a big imagination! As each holiday approached, I could walk into the room and see staff members busily working as they cut, glued, and glittered decorations to liven up the dreary room. When deadlines had passed and there was time to relax, we would sit in the hallway to discuss anything and everything. Mr. Donovan is one of a kind, and I'm going to miss him and all of his adventures.

Good luck to next year's editors and good luck to Westwood's class of '87!

Deborah Gofas

In glancing through the pages of this past year's book, only an editor would describe it as frustrating. Beating the deadlines wasn't the only race we ran. Carrying out an anniversary theme, printing in color, and knocking out headlines compounded with an everyday oops or two was enough to drive us all looney tunes at times.

In glancing through the pages of this past year, only an editor would describe it as challenging. Fifteen short months ago I didn't know what 3C and 3R forms were. Now, you're looking at Westwood's twenty-fifth yearbook, the first in the Southwest to print both underclass and senior portraits in color.

In glancing through the pages of this past year, only an editor would describe it as rewarding. Mr. Donovan has taught me skills I'll continue to utilize long after I leave this campus. Collaborating with the thirty terrific individuals who produced this publication has been a privilege.

In glancing over through the pages of this past year, I would describe it as unforgettable!! All the memories of past, all the dreams of the future, packed tightly between two covers. Thanks staff, thanks Donovan, it's been ... fun.

Anne DeJong

How could I ever forget Room 007? All the crazy things that happened there would make it impossible to leave behind in my memory. Of all the wonderful things I learned about making a yearbook, the most important lesson learned was friendship. So many new friends were made by lounging and talking in the hall, while other friends became closer than ever, right Kim?

However, I will never forget the frustrating times of a deadline rushing around screaming things like, "Where's my pictures?" and of course most common, "Where's a grease pencil?" These madenning times will all be overlooked as the fun times come to mind. We'll probably have more clips, stickers, bracelets, and dolls than we'll ever know what to do with, but thanks to Donny we'll always know how to be a good bargain shopper and what to do to be a "good baby."

There will never be an experience like the one I've had in Room 007. Thanks to all of the people that made high school just a little bit more special, and especially Donny who became an important part of my life, I love you and I'll miss you.

Jana Templin

It's hard to imagine a day without room 007. It's been such a large part of my life, housing many memories, from the craziest episodes to the most stressed-out moments I've ever endured. Donovan knows, the staffers know, and the other editors know how aroused I can become around deadline . also deserve a thank you for the dedication and hard work you displayed in order to complete this extra-anticipated 25th edition of Chieftain.

However, no one can overlook the party atmosphere the publications classroom exhibits, and the image is all too true. We have had some of the best times keeping up with holiday decorations and a-gift-a-day pals, and still managed to hold the biggest and best Christmas and end-of-the-year bashes ever.

One last thanks has to go to my Bobsey twin, Jana. You made every day so fun, not to mention all the ruts you helped me out of. I love ya! Just think we have a total bracelet wardrobe thanks to this class and to our favorite man in the whole world. Thanks for putting up with us, Donny. I'll miss you. Good luck Warriors of '87.

Kim Blankenburg

My first encounter with room 007, the Yearbook room, was typical. I was confused. During my junior year, my schedule was such that I needed Yearbook class for an English credit. I entered at the semester and planned on being a gopher, a nobody in the world of journalism, because I was the new kid on the block and I wanted to graduate. Fortunately, several people took me under their wing. I was soon swept up in the excitement of the class, and I was promoted to Business Manager of this year's annual. Now I can honestly say, that by the end of my senior year, I actually felt a sense of security in room 007.

A business manager deals with money. To me, money was just figures. But Mr. Donovan showed me the side of economics that dealt with human values. It was a true learning experience for me.

It was not an easy senior year, though. I was on the Yearbook staff, but I was in Mr. Donovan's Newspaper class and on its staff also. Often, I had two different assignments due at the same time in one class. Thank you editors of the Chieftain and the War Chant for understanding my situation and having patience with me. I owe Westwood more than I realize.

Three semesters of Yearbook taught me more than I ever wanted to learn about frustration and deadlines. As an editor I owe the staff much of the credit. Being the only male in my hour, it became a necessity to know when to leave the room to allow otherwise embarrassing conversation.

Thanks goes to my fellow editors, to whom I sometimes felt as more of a hinderence than a helper. Thanks to Roz, Laurie, and Wendy (with the stormy eyes) for putting up with the task at hand. Thanks to Renee for all the pictures that made the yearbook what it is. Thanks to Riesa and Bonnie for their skills on the secret missions to Ford Studios. Thanks to Amy for her enlightening enterpretations of the morning announcements. Thanks to Jennifer and Stephanie for doing the jobs that had to be done.

Good luck to Bobbi who will be one of the editors next year, and of course, thanks to my advisor and friend, without whom my brief hour per day with power wouldn't have been a success.

ALBERT,

I'm SURE, you And Ronald are so mean! J.K., I❤-u-! Well, the year is finally over* yea*? I'm really glad we had History together cause if we didn't, we probably never would've met and became such GOOD friends (Rita)!! If you don't call me and ask me out this summer, I'll be so mad at you? It's your fault we didn't do somthen this year, (don't blame it on Marcy)!! J.K. Thanks so much for giving me Rides to A.S., it's your're fault we never went behind the building! Oh well Maybe next year or maybe we can find a building this summer -Kay-! Hey, Have A GReat one and stay sweet! I❤ ya!!

❤ Kari Anderson

844-1924 in case you forget!

P.S. don't get stuck-up next year -K-!

Albert,
Hey what a year huh? It's been a blast having you in American Lit. You're a real cool guy! And I'm glad I got to know you better! Have a great summer & see you next year! Keep in touch!
Cya!
